GOOD FEELING IN COMMITTEE

DECLARE ATTACKS ON SENATE
MEMBERS IS TO BE CON-DEMNED.

WILSON'S LETTER IS READ

His Characterization of "Rebels" All Who Oppose Currency Taken
as Good Sign.

Washington, Oct. 8.—Attacks on members of the senate banking and currency committee and efforts to force action by the committee on the administration currency bill were severely condemned in an informal executive session of the committee to-night. Senators O'Gorman and Hitchcock, singled out as individual objects of two attacks within the past three days, demanded that the committee take up the matter and for an hour the criticisms were discussed.

After the meeting Senator Hitchcock said that the members of the committee had unanimously and individually expressed the opinion that any organized effort to coerce the committee or to circulate unfounded criticisms of members of the committee was to be condemned. He also declared that the democratic members had condemned the criticisms of himself, made public in a statement by Carter Glass, who piloted the administration bill through the house.

Senator O'Gorman said that the meeting resulted in a general expression of good feeling among the members of the committee and an understanding that no further efforts to force the committee to act prematurely would be tolerated. The letter of President Wilson, published today repudiating a quoted statement attributed to him, characterizing as "rebels" the democrats opposing the currency measure, was read in the committee and in connection with statements made by members of the committee.

Chairman Owen, who has led the support of the president's bill in the committee, was not present during the discussion. He left shortly after the committee went into executive session.

Senator O'Gorman apparently was greatly aroused over a criticism of his course in the committee as published today. He did not reach the committee room until late afternoon and a few minutes after taking his place at

SULZER DOES NOT TAKE THE STAND

COUNSEL FOR GOVERNOR RESTS
WITHOUT CALLING HIM TO TESTIFY.

WILL NOT HIDE BEHIND WIFE

Sudden Determination Not to "Tell
All," as He Stated He Would,
Surprises Assembly.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 8.—Without calling either Governor Sulzer or his wife to the witness stand, his counsel today tested their case in the trial of his impeachment. According to D. Cady Herick, chief of his attorneys, Governor Sulzer decided not to defend himself in person because he did not want to be placed in the position of shielding himself behind his wife—for it was for Mrs. Sulzer, according to the testimony, that the governor had his Wall Street dealings.

Judge Herick said tonight Governor Sulzer had heard from many quarters, including Washington, that "any man who would shield himself behind his wife ought to be removed."

Friends of the governor tonight pictured him as a man who had martyred himself for the sake of his wife. Judge Herick pointed out that the testimony yesterday of Allan A. Ryan best disclosed the reason why the governor had not taken the stand. This was the conversation which Ryan said he had with the impeached executive early in September in relation to obtaining political influence to stop the trial.

Says Will Shield Wife.
"I suggested to Mr. Sulzer," Ryan's testimony ran, "now that certain charges had been made against him, that I did not see how he could afford to put himself in a position in which he could not answer the charges. He did not want to drag his wife into the situation and put her on the stand."

The sudden announcement by the defense that the case was closed, which came late in the afternoon, created a profound sensation in the court room. Only a few days after the trial began Governor Sulzer told newspaper men that he would positively appear in his own defense. He said that at that time he would tell "an astounding story" that would force Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany hall, to take the stand in his defense also. Up until a few days ago it was learned from authoritative sources tonight that the governor was still insistent that he be allowed to tell his story, but he finally yielded, it was said, to the advice of his attorneys.

In preparing for this story, as well as that expected from Mrs. Sulzer, counsel for the impeachment managers had in reserve half a dozen more witnesses whom they had expected to put on in rebuttal. Mrs. Sulzer, they anticipated, would take the blame for the governor's stock speculations in Wall street, which the articles of impeachment charge he conducted with unreported campaign contributions.

Two of these witnesses were called before the court adjourned today, but Judge Cullen excluded their testimony. They were Geo. W. Egbert, a bank examiner in charge of the books of the now defunct Carnegie Trust company, and James C. Miller, an official of the fifth avenue bank of New York. Egbert was ready to give evidence, Kresel said, that would controvert the testimony that Mrs. Sulzer had an account in the Carnegie Trust company or that the company had loaned the governor money on securities owned by her and deposited in that institution.

To Prove Mrs. Sulzer's Account.
By Mr. Miller, Mr. Kresel continued, the managers proposed to show that

WOMAN ESCAPES OPERATION

By Timely Use of Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Here is her own statement.

Cary, Maine.—"I feel it a duty I owe to all suffering women to tell what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me. One year ago I found myself a terrible sufferer. I had pains in both sides and such a soreness I could scarcely straighten up at times. My back ached, I had no appetite and I was so nervous I could not sleep, and I was so tired mornings that I could scarcely get around. It seemed almost impossible to move or do a bit of work and I thought I never would be any better until I submitted to an operation. I commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and soon felt like a new woman. I had no pains, slept well, had good appetite and was fat and could do almost all my own work for a family of four. I shall always feel that I owe my good health to your medicine."—Mrs. HAYWARD SOWERS, Cary, Maine.

If you are ill do not drag along until an operation is necessary, but at once take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., confidential, Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

Mrs. Sulzer had an account in the Fifth Avenue bank during the campaign of 1912; he learned later out of court that Mrs. Sulzer's balance in this institution totaled about $200,000 early in October, 1912, and that had increased to more than $400,000 by the end of the succeeding month.

Judge Cullen held that the introduction of this testimony would inject new evidence and reopen the case. The exclusion of this testimony practically placed the crux of the governor's defense in the story of Louis A. Sarecky, the governor's campaign secretary, told yesterday, in which he assumed the blame for the governor's failure to report his campaign contributions.

Today John R. Stanchfield put Sarecky on the stand and continued throughout the morning session and part of the afternoon, a searching cross examination in an attempt to discredit his story.

It was a battle of wits. Imperturbable Sarecky, however, pushed the governor's youthful looking lieutenant parried the attack of his inquisitors thrust for thrust. Many things he was unable to remember.

Says Destroyed Documents.
In addition to again insisting that the governor had destroyed all his campaign statements was inaccurate, Sarecky testified that notwithstanding a general knowledge of the laws describing a strict accounting of campaign monies he had destroyed all documentary evidence relating thereto.

Sarecky declared he had received and deposited in a trust company to his own account $12,500 of the Sulzer contributions. Of this amount he accounted for the expenditure of $7,734. Pressed for an explanation of the disposition of the balance, he said he had paid between $800 and $900 to settle a judgment obtained against Sulzer by Fred Hastings and his father in Seattle, Washington. He said he advised the governor that this claim had been settled out of campaign contributions before the statement was filed. In spite of continued questioning, Sarecky said he was "utterly unable" to account for additional expenditures. He denied all knowledge of an alleged $2,600 contribution by the late Charles Kohler, a wealthy New York piano manufacturer and race horse breeder.

A letter to Mr. Kohler thanking him, signed "Wm. Sulzer," was placed in evidence. The contribution had not been mentioned previously.

This occasioned the cross questioning of the methods employed by Sarecky in acknowledgement of campaign contributions.

Earlier in his testimony Sarecky declared he had prepared a "form" reply to meet all emergencies. Judge Cullen referred to the fact that the "form" never specified contributions.

Mr. Stanchfield then directed his questioning to the testimony of former Senator Stedman, who had requested that acknowledgment of contributions be sent to individuals identified with the liquor interests from whom he had collected a Sulzer fund. The attorney emphasized the fact that the acknowledgments sent in accordance with this request had not specified the amount of the contributions.

During this line of questioning Sarecky for the first time showed signs of nervousness. He moved about uneasily in his chair and clasped and unclasped his hands.

Keeps No Books.
Briefly questioned on redirect examination, Sarecky said that, so far as he knew, "Mr. Sulzer did not keep any books of account."

To a query by a senator the witness answered that when the campaign was over there was only $50 left in his trust company account.

"The governor said to me, 'Buy yourself a suit of clothes with it,'" said the witness.

Counsel for the impeachment managers placed Webb Floyd, president of the Mutual Alliance Trust company, on the stand, in rebuttal of Sarecky, but as the case of the other two rebuttal witnesses, his testimony was excluded. Floyd was called to impeach that portion of Sarecky's story yesterday in which the latter declared that Floyd had not asked him to present to the trust company his authority for endorsing checks made payable to Sulzer in his own account.

The only other testimony introduced by the defense today was by Hugh J. Reilly, a contractor for the Cuban government, that he had loaned Governor Sulzer $25,000, and by John N. Carlisle, state highway commissioner for New York, who identified a document in which he had recommended the passage of a legislative bill which the governor signed. This was the bill of Assemblyman Prime, in respect to which, it was alleged in the impeachment charges, the governor had exercised his political influence.

Attorney Stanchfield attempted to question Reilly in regard to his relations to Sulzer when he was chairman of the foreign affairs committee in congress. At that time Reilly procured from the Cuban government, through the intervention of the United States, a $500,000 claim. This line of interrogation was excluded by the court.

It was announced by counsel that Louis Marshall for the defense would begin the summing up at tomorrow's session. He will be answered by Judge Alton B. Parker. On Friday Judge Herick will close the summing up for the defense and Edward T. Brakett will close for the board of managers.

These plans are subject to change, however.

Murphy Breaks Silence.

New York, Oct. 8.—Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany hall, abandoned his policy of silence today long enough to assert that no one ever had come to him with a request that he stop Governor Sulzer's impeachment trial.

"No person ever has approached me on that subject," Mr. Murphy said. "The first thing I knew about this phase of the situation was when I read the testimony of Allan Ryan in the newspapers. That was all news to me."

Mr. Ryan testified at the Sulzer trial that Governor Sulzer had asked him to endeavor to have Mr. Murphy stop the impeachment proceedings.

Shooting in Calumet Strike.

Calumet, Mich., Oct. 8.—Eleven arrests were made in connection with the fatal shooting of Jos. Pollock Jr. by men supposed to be strikers near Houghton this morning, but only three are held. One of the three is Joseph Manerich, who was shot through the stomach by Pollock and who is in a dying condition in a hospital.

GERMANS FOR IRISH HOME RULE

National Alliance in Session at St. Louis, Wants German Theatre.

St. Louis, Oct. 8.—The National German American Alliance closed the business sessions of its biennial convention here this afternoon, after deciding to meet in 1915 in San Francisco. Tonight the delegates were guests at a celebration of the defeat of Napoleon at the battle of Leipzig a century ago. The convention in its closing session today declared its sympathy with the movements for Irish home rule. Congressman Richard Bartholdt of St. Louis said the Irish-Americans had supported him in all his efforts to safeguard the personal liberty of the American people and issuing liberal immigration laws.

The following officers were elected: Dr. C. J. Hexamer, Philadelphia, president; secretary, Adolph Timm, Philadelphia; treasurer, H. Weniger, Philadelphia; financial secretary, Herman Wader, Philadelphia.

During the day a committee was appointed to perfect plans for the establishment of a national German theater. The committee is composed of Hans Weniger, Philadelphia, chairman; Walter J. Briggs, Vancouver, B. C., secretary, and Victor Neuhau, general manager of the proposed theater. Headquarters for the enterprise will be in Denver, where, according to Mr. Neuhau, financial support for such a theater has already been pledged by business and civic organizations.

Will Rebuild Elevator.

Beaumont, Oct. 8.—The big grain elevator that was destroyed here by fire a short time ago will be reconstructed immediately. The new building and equipment will cost about $100,000.

MEANEST MAN ON EARTH IS LOCATED

Stole From Sick Wife New Earth Fluid That Might Have Made Her Well.

The meanest man on earth is again located. According to the story, he does not live in Texas, but just across the border in a small Louisiana town. His wife was almost in a dying condition of a complication of stomach, liver and kidney ills. Physicians had given her up. A quantity of the new earth fluid, Vitalitas, was sent her by a friend. It would probably have meant a return to health and strength for her, yet her husband stole it and disposed of it for a small amount of money, which he put to a sordid use.

No sick person should be denied the benefits of this new earth fluid. The sick crave it. It has within it the chemical properties and forces that diseased organisms need for their repair and recuperation.

Vitalitas is the most marvelous medicinal product of the age. It comes out of the earth, is pure and is not adulterated. A child or delicate invalid can take it. It is constantly printing about cures of chronic ailments that have defied all medicinal skill. For all derangements of stomach, liver, kidneys and blood and bowels Vitalitas is wonderfully effective. Do not despair if you have not tried it. It is guaranteed.

You can sample Vitalitas and see a demonstration of it today at the Powers-Kelly Drug Co.

A. & M. Exhibit at Cotton Palace Will Display Model Construction.

College Station, Tex., Oct. 8.—The thousands of visitors at the Waco Cotton Palace will have a rare opportunity of inspecting model terraces
showing how land may be prepared
in a manner that will prevent washing. The A. & M. college, under the direction of R. B. Pearce, terrace engineer, has prepared an exhibit on terracing and this will be exhibited at the Cotton Palace and other state attractions.

The exhibit will include models, pictures of terraced lands, bulletins on terracing and drainage, and for the big part of the time Mr. Pearce will be on hand to give instruction regarding the exhibit and to answer questions with reference to drainage and terracing.

Good roads also will be featured and Prof. R. J. Potts, professor of highway engineering at the college,
will be in charge of this department.
Model roads, showing the use of various materials, pictures of road construction in Texas, etc., will be included in this exhibit.

The exhibit of the agricultural extension department of the college will be sent to Waco from Dallas and will be installed there at once by R.
R. Rosa. Practically all departments of college activity will be shown there
and a staff of experts will be stationed there at the exhibit throughout the fair.

NOBODY CAN TELL.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea
and Sulphur for darkening gray,
streaked and faded hair is grandmoth-

using it to turn their hair a good,
even color, which is quite sensible,
as we are living in an age when a

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home.
All drug stores will the ready-to-use
product called "Wyeth's Sage and Sul-

a bottle. It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time, by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sul-

darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustreous appearance of abundance which is so attractive; besides, prevents dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair.

without perforation, all flues are clean
and ready for use, and all matches are in a safe place. This is woman's duty in observation of the first State Fire Prevention day.

THE HOME ASSOCIATION

HOLDS FIRST MEETING
In the parlors of the First National bank, the members of the Home association met for the beginning of a new year's activity. In the absence of the president, Mrs. S. Archibald is acting president. She presided at this coming together, and conducted the routine business necessary to a new year. It was decided to have the annual Thanksgiving tea, which is always the means of awakening renewed and more extended interest in the work of this charitable institution.

MRS. MERCHANT COLGIN

IS BRILLIANT HOSTESS
Another in the early season games
of the Young Married Ladies' Bridge club came with Mrs. Merchant Colgin hostess. Quite a number of players joined the game by special invitation,
these being the Mesdames J. W. Bass,
George B. Kendall, H. J. Spanell, William Carroll, J. G. Wren and Robert Coleman. In the count for high score and out, the prizes were captured by the Mesdames Adrian Moore and E.
F. Carroll. The next hostess is Mrs.
Irwin Colgin.

THE THIRTEEN CLUB PLAYS

WITH MRS. NAID GARLAND
One of the pleasant games of the Thirteen club found Mrs. Naid Garland and Mrs. Geraldine Garland Lord hostesses. Guests were added to the game, and new members were voted,
which will extend the club at the next meeting. The prizes which the Mesdames Garland and Lord had provided were all pieces of fancy linen.
They were won by the Mesdames
Lutz, Chambers of Denison and Hal
Ester. The next hostess will be Mrs.
Oscar Rogers on Colored avenue.

MISS ANNE RISHER HOSTESS

FOR MISS CAMILLE WEBB
As the round of courtesy shown Miss Camille Webb, who is today returning home to make last preparation for her wedding day, Miss Anne Risher was hostess in an informal way to her society, at least to those who are in the city. These are the Phi Phi, and there are seven members from the state here. A few closest friends of Miss Webb dropped for an au revoir and the social hour. This was an informality, yet a pleasing courtesy between sorority sisters.

THE SOCIAL CALENDAR

FOR THIS THURSDAY

MISS LILIAN WESTBROOK

HAS BRIDGE JUNIORS
It was quite the exhilarating ride
out to Alta Vista for the members of the Bridge Junior club. There they resumed their weekly game of bridge
with Miss Lilian Westbrook hostess.
In courtesy to the coming marriage of Miss Camille Webb, an extra guest table was added to the game, with the three Misses Webb and Miss Eliza Hardy of Corsicana. The leading score was made by Miss Minniebell Webb. Miss Westbrook was muchly complimented over the plate of dainties which she offered as her luncheon feature. The members will entertain in regular routine, but the hostess for the coming Tuesday is yet to be named.

THE COLONIAL BRIDGE

WITH MRS. E. F. DRAKE
The Colonial Bridge club is the first
to fall into line with reorganization for a new season. This was done in the home of the president for the last year, Mrs. E. F. Drake, also the president for the year to come, for the club will hear of no change. This club has proved unusually congenial, since the changes are very few. Mrs. J. C. Ray, owing to recent bereavement, is not playing at present. The Mesdames C. C. Terry and Chauncey Prade are elected new members. There is yet a vacancy, and this will be filled at the next meeting with Mrs. B. E. Dancer.
Following the business, Mrs. Drake brought out her tables and other requisites for a game. In waiting were two sets of the now coveted short happins. These were won by the Mesdames Eugene McNutt and Edwin Jurney. Those who are for this ses-

JEWISH WOMEN'S COUNCIL

HOLDS OPEN SESSION
The first of the monthly general sessions for the Jewish Women's council took place on Tuesday. This was for October. In the interim between this and November, the study circle will form and outline its course for bi-weekly session. The first meeting will be with the council president,
Mrs. Abe Frank, and will find Rabbi Hoffman director. On Tuesday, the council heard, by special invitation, an address from I. A. Goldstein. He took for his line of thought the motto
of the council, and gave some wholesome thought for the members to carry with them into their work. This work is not yet decided. The council is organized with branches into several lines, all uplifting. The local council proposes to adopt the one which is most needed in this community and to concentrate upon that.
Mrs. Alfred Goldshaw presided, and Mrs. Isaac Simmons kept the minutes.
Several new members were enrolled,
but not nearly so many as will be be-

of his experience with Plant Juice.
Rev. Cardwell is widely known

"Plant Juice is a grand treatment
for nervous prostration, stomach trouble and general debility. I have felt so much in need of the right kind of a treatment that I have tried many kinds of remedies, but Plant Juice has proved a real blessing to me. It has corrected my stomach and nervous

Now that the Euterpean club has

of local music clubs to stimulate church music. This is what leads eventually to the paid choir.

The Morning News editor is not the monomaniac upon the subject of musical practice; she is only in line with the advanced thinkers upon moral training. Books are being writ-accepted along this trend of thought.

Why? Because it's something which the masses know is acceptable to the masses of readers.

Are not the parks looking beautiful these days, since the summer dust is washed from the grass and the foliage?
This makes one feel like dropping down into one of the park seats, and resting and recovering from the strenuousness of the strenuous, as this rush of living has been phrased.

If the woman signs the petition
from her huckster that he be allowed to bring vegetables to her door, it ought to be accompanied by the solemn pledge that he not awake her
afternoon nap by crying his wares.
Even the convenience sometimes becomes the nuisance.

Some of the women who drive their own cars are having novel experience
since the police are so strict with the traffic ordinance. To have name entered upon the fine docket for being too far from the curb has been more than a new experience. In September,
for instance, it all goes to make life,
even the arrest and fine of a daintily
dressed dame.

It is predicted that there will be more entertaining at the Huaco club
this winter, now that the comfort of steam heat is assured. The Huaco
has been the occasion of some truly
"stilly" receptions.

If one desires some idea for decor-

the cotton ball and foliage?

It is not one bit fair that the weather man should turn coquette with us;
it was the promise of bracing cool
days in September, when, lo and behold, October has been worse really than August. Nobody ever dared say a man was fickle, but the women
hope the weather man may so prove before they have occasion to put on their new tailor suits.

The man who boasted he knows how to deal with women—that the keynote is to promise them anything, agree with them in everything, evade the promise—is a man found out. The

A Real Cedar Clothes Chest for $5.95

Just think of it—a roomy chest of genuine Tennessee Mountain Cedar—the kind that usually sells for $10.00—handsomely finished and mounted on double action castors, for only $5.95.
If you can't spare the $5.95 today, pay us $1.00 now, take the chest and then pay the rest at $1.00 per week. For your nice dresses and shirtwaists, or as a place to put away your summer clothes, no other receptacle is half as satisfactory as a Cedar Chest.

We have them in all styles and sizes, splendidly made, trimmed with brass and copper bands, metal or wood handles, heavy locks and hinges to match the trimming. Fragrant with the delicious aroma of the cedar forests, convenient, handsome looking and absolutely proof against dust and moth—you'll be proud of yours the minute you get it, and you'll like it better every day. See those beauties in our big corner window today—that's only a few of them; come up to the second floor and look at the rest.

We have a few of these Chests that were slightly damaged in shipping. Somebody's going to get them mighty cheap. Do you want one? If you do, you'd better speak for it today.

While the membership, generally, is not called upon, except on stated occasions, to give their personal time
and attention, their financial support
is absolutely necessary.
The members of the directors, who have the duty of directing the directors to

We, the undersigned business men

George Ferguson of Texarkana is knocked Down By Machine.

George Ferguson of Texarkana, who is visiting his brother at 914 North Thirteenth, was knocked down by an automobile yesterday afternoon at the corner of Twelfth and Columbus streets but was not seriously injured. The accident occurred while Mr. Ferguson was crossing the street. He failed to note the approaching machine, and was struck by the fender being thrown to the pavement. The driver of the automobile, Pat Hopkins, stopped as quickly as possible and helped Mr. Ferguson up. The latter was carried home by Mrs. Howard Mann in her automobile. "Last night he was feeling no bad effects from the accident beyond several bruises.

RALLY CALL ISSUED

STRONG REMINDER OF CIVIC DUTY ADDRESSED TO CIT-IZENS.

It is Signed by the Directors of the Chamber of Commerce—Text of Epistle.

With a view to rousing the business men of Waco to a proper sense of the importance of the Chamber of Commerce and their obligation to give it
their hearty support and co-operation,
the directors of the organization are issuing out the following exhortation:

Dear Sirs:

We want to call your attention to a matter of duty to the city of Waco
which in our minds you are overlooking.
We refer to your non-support of the Chamber of Commerce.
We, the directors, are serving you in accepting positions on the board (without remuneration) and we feel it only necessary to call your attention to the matter to receive your financial support.

Waco is fast growing to be a leading city in Texas. In order to keep the position she now has and force
ahead to greater importance, the Chamber of Commerce must lead her and keep her thoughts in advance of the present.

We, the directors, can think, plan,
and see many ways to benefit you, but we can't accomplish desired results without money. We must have an efficient secretary whose salary must be commensurate with his ability. Stenographer, collector, suitable office and assembly rooms, all of which must be paid for by subscribers' monthly dues.

We need you. Waco is now in the nation's eye. We need further publicity and it is now considered the opportune time to employ a publicity
man to reap the benefits of need already sown. Unless you interest yourself in Chamber of Commerce work,
it will be a revelation to you to know
the amount of work done by the Chamber of Commerce of which you, as a business man, reap your share of the benefits.

This organization has many loyal members who have never failed her
and who consider her a factor in their success. In order to place everyone in a position to do their part, it has been

The Home Beauty Parlor By Betty Dean

Janet: Stop that falling hair right away, for it irritates the scalp, and startles you when you speak of may be dangerous. Fingernails often poison the skin. Conquer the dandruff at once with this simple remedy by dissolving one ounce of quinine in one half pint of alcohol and adding one half pint cold water.
This is a refreshing treatment—excellent for preventing that irritated scalp. It will change the natural color but will heighten it and add life and freshness.

Valaze: I do not approve radical measures for beautifying the eyes. Here is a home-made remedy which has done wonders for week, inflamed or watery eyes:
Dissolve an ounce of cystos in a pint of water; put two or three drops in each eye two or three times a day. This will enable you to put off the evil hour of wearing glasses and besides being soothing and restful to the vision will enhance the expression and give sparkle
and charm to the eyes.

Maggie O.: I never recommend talcum powder for the face—no, indeed, is there any ordinary face powder which will answer all the demands. The only thing I can heartily recommend is spumax, which has won the commendation of the Parisian beauty authorities. It is a liquid beautifier which is, also, a good tonic for the skin, protecting it, while at the same time, it makes you look fair, clear and radiant. Get 4 ounces spumax from the drugist, mix in one half pint hot water
and add two teaspoonfuls of glycerine.
Shake well and use as directed. Use at once, and is the best way to keep the complexion youthful and natural with a soft, velvety bloom. One application is plenty for several hours' time.

Sue L.: I don't blame you for not being enthusiastic about dieting to reduce your flesh. Many doctors say it is dangerous besides being a martyrdom. It may reduce your vitality and the remedy be worse than the disease. Instead of the radical method try the simple parrotis.

This is easily taken and is sure to bring down your face without bad effects of any kind. Dissolve 4 ounces parrotis in 1 1/2 pints of water. Take a tablespoonful before meals. Don't be afraid of flabby effects on the skin.

Mary L.: I shouldn't call a pimpled
skin and red nose a disgraceful disfigurement, especially when they are so easily remedied. Try this greaseless cream jelly brisky massaged into the skin; get one ounce of alcohol at your drugist's
and stir it into a half pint of cold water, adding two teaspoonfuls of glycerine. I will be glad to hear how this helps you.
Others are constantly writing me in praise
of this wonderful remedy, alcohol,
which is fine to prevent wrinkles, flabbiness,
sallowiness and all skin troubles.

Blonde: I can not advise any bleaching process for the hair. The best way to retain the color of your "golden crown" is to keep the scalp healthy and free from dandruff and dirt. Shampoo often, using only cantharax for the lather. A teaspoonful in a cup of hot water is plenty. There is plenty in a package for fifteen shampooes, and it will leave your hair magnificently clean, fluffy and altogether
lovely. Try it. Use no soap. If the soap trouble continues use quinine for which see answer to Janet.

Miss L. Smith: If looking in your mirror discourages you lately, it does not prove that you are permanently losing your good looks. The probabilities are that you are only temporarily run down,
and I would urge you to try this simple home-made tonic: Dissolve an ounce of kardene in half a pint of alcohol, add one-half ounce of sugar and enough hot water
to make a full quart. Take a tablespoonful before each meal. It will restore your beauty and with the new blood and strength it will give you a prophesy a speedy return to your good looks and fine spirits. For the newest complexion lotion

THE "WANE" OF GERMAN SCIENCE.

"The creative science of Germany, particularly the science of chemistry, is not at a standstill, but is actually on the wane, being surpassed by the investigators of other countries, particularly France and America," says Prof. Baron Hans von Liebig, professor of chemistry at the University of Gießen, and one of the leading authorities on chemistry in Germany, according to the Chicago Tribune.

Professor von Liebig predicts in effect that unless there is an upward turn soon the place in the forefront of chemistry which Germany created for itself and held for such a long time will pass to nations which have more progressive thinkers. He says there are three stages of scientific standing—the creative time, the resting on results of creative researchers, and the wane. Germany, he declares, is well in the third stage. The impetus of the creative spirit has been used up and science is extending in scope upon the results of Germany's scientific pioneers in this work, but not in depth. Methodical progress based on the creative results of German scientists are now being made abroad and not at home. In chemistry England bids fair again to take the lead.

"Professor von Liebig thinks the wane of Germany is due to objective education following the beaten paths of admiration for past results at the expense of independent thinking and research."

Aw G'wan!

W. R. P. Priebe, executive committee member of the National Poultry, Butter and Eggs Association, estimates that $75,000,000 worth of eggs are broken annually in transit—Christian Science Monitor.

Impossible! All the eggs purchased by all the galleries at all the hick shows in all the hick towns in the country, to be buried at all the ham-fats, don't come to that much per year. And we know it for a fact that 8 out of 10 of these eggs are not broken in transit, but at terminal. In other words the "gods" get their man that often.

HEALTH AND FINANCE.

This is an age which places an average increasing emphasis on the relation of good health to individual hygiene, to social effectiveness, to general prosperity. The race is to the community whose children thrive and whose workers keep well. Human health is a purchasable commodity, as has been demonstrated in Cuba, Panama and the Philippines. New York City, with its advanced health ordinances and comparatively liberal supply of money to carry them out, is a striking example of what an urban community can do in the way of a radical reduction in infant mortality and in the general death rate. Yakima county, Washington, is another example showing the results of systematic work and liberal expenditure in a rural district. In twelve months under a full-time health officer, with a well-equipped laboratory and a corps of visiting nurses and sanitary inspectors, the death rate in the county from typhoid fever was reduced from 128 per hundred thousand to sixteen, and the deaths from all causes fell from 538 in 1911 to 293 in 1912. Other instances of like effective work might be cited.

The mayor of Colorado Springs said recently to the delegates of the American Public Health Association that the problems of public health are even more vital than those of individual health. Appreciation of this fact comes slowly. Money to purchase public health is given grudgingly by those in charge of the public purse. St. Louis, the fourth city in the United States in both population and manufactures, spends annually only $100,000 on its health department, whereas it spends $2,000,000 annually on its police department, twenty times the amount spent for the promotion of public health. Larger appropriations for health purposes will only follow the creation of public sentiment demanding them, and in accomplishing this the newspapers must play the chief role. The St. Louis Republic, recognizing this, has applied itself to the creation of a public demand for better support of the health department of St. Louis, and will present a plan for making that city the healthiest in the United States. At present the death-rate in that city is considerably less than that of other large cities in the same latitude, and almost as low as that of Cleveland, New York and San Francisco, cities more favorably located geographically and climatically, but it is believed that it can be made still less. This commendable object will require not only increased appropriations for the health department, but the sustained co-operation of all the citizens, and it is this co-operation which, with an intelligent grasp of the requirements, the Republic has begun a campaign to secure.

The newspapers and citizens of every community should awake to the fact that community health is a first principle of effective government, and should adopt for their slogan, "Public Health is a Purchasable Commodity."

"Thirty." Sir—I am quoted in your issue (Washington Post) of this morning as saying that any one who does not support me is no democrat, but a rebel. Of course I never said any such thing. It is contrary both to my thought and to my character (etc.)—The President.

Of course he didn't—of course it is! When the P. of the U. S. denies he said something the newspapers say he said, there is nothing for the newspapers to do but to go beyond printing his denial and even say he did not say what he says he did not say, which is what they said he said. But, after all, haven't many of us that same sweetly solemn thought—that any democrat who does not support our president is no democrat, but a rebel or, at the most charitable, an "insurgent"?

BLUEPRINT, PLEASE

We are not called on to admit Waco needs more street cars, or larger street cars, that her people may be provided with seats in going to and from their homes in the rush hours.

We are not called on to admit that there should be on each car a crew of two men, for the safe, convenient and comfortable operation of the traction facilities in the company's, as well as in the public's, behalf.

We want to see the public adequately served and the traction company popularized and prospered in Waco.

Waco needs good service quite as much as the company needs the support of the Waco public.

The traction company's franchise is not a "privilege."

Conversation, official or otherwise, that asserts a public utility franchise is a "privilege" to the corporation is loose and uncomprehending conversation.

Nor is it a "privilege" for the people that they may use the street cars. Traction service is a public necessity. It is a mutual arrangement—with people and corporation as parties of the first and the second part.

We say we are not called on to admit these needs obtain, because rather more than the city commission we have urged and reurged the improvement. And we believe the improvement will come.

We are less perturbed by the need of better accommodation than we are puzzled by the behavior of our commission concerning this situation.

The commission orders the city attorney to prepare an ordinance to require the traction company to put a conductor and a driver on every car, or, else, to replace the small cars on every line by large cars of the pattern operated on Fifth street line.

In other words, the commission thinks the situation will be remedied either by small cars with conductors or by large, conductorless cars.

Where in the name of common sense does such an "alternative" fit? How will the addition of a conductor to a small car mitigate the much-complained-of hardship of standing in the cars during the rush hours?

Does the commission, possibly, consider the conductor should admit to the car only as many as can be provided with seats? If so, then certainly the system would need more, and larger, cars—both.

TEXAS WRONGED IN THAT HOUSTON PORTRAIT MATTER.

Has the press of the big cities, especially New York, been treated to the same brand of rank misinformation in the matter of removing Houston's portrait in the senate chamber at Austin, and hanging Bailey's where Houston's portrait hung, that it published concerning the protest of certain misguided old men that Texas's school children should not have text-books that contained the likeness of the great Lincoln? We wonder. The New York Sun, fair, but sometimes flighty when its pet aversions are concerned, says in one of its accustomed Bailey criticism editorials that Sam Houston "could afford better than Texas a slight to his memory." The New York Evening Mail has it that "Sam Houston's portrait has been removed to make room for one of Joe Bailey."....but a portrait of Texas at the present time would probably look more like Joe Bailey than it would like Sam Houston. And—mercy on us!—the Mobile Item, adjuncting comment from the Memphis News-Scimitar, turns out this curious collection of carelessness:

Look out for a roar from Texas that will reverberate into the reaches of space. Factional politics have been kindled and inflamed to such an extent in that State that the great oil painting of General Sam Houston, which hung in the most conspicuous place in the State capital, has been taken down and removed in order to give place to the painting of ex-Senator Joseph W. Bailey. Without reference to Bailey's faults or virtues, and without considering the enmity of his friends or the malevolence of his enemies, the Memphis News-Scimitar believes that the people of the United States will be of the opinion that degrading General Houston in order to exalt Senator Bailey into prominence is most unwise and ill-timed. Tennesseans naturally resent the idea, because while General Houston won Texas from Mexico, and was the first president of that republic, he was before that governor of Tennessee, and he is and always will remain one of our great national characters. No doubt the Texans will feel that the removal of General Houston's picture to its wonted place of honor, but the incident is most regrettable.

And the unrestrained exaggeration of the incident, like to these instances we cited, is more regrettable. We could almost hope that the Houston portrait in question would not be restored. It is a made-to-order portrait, a most unlovely and unheroic production. It does justice neither to the known lineaments of Houston nor to the assured talent of its author, Mr. Boris Gordon. It does not add to Texans' reverence of the memory of Houston nor aid Texans to understand the strength of character and nobility of purpose, of the man. It is said Houston desired to be portrayed after the paintings of Marius on the ruins of Carthage, and this senate chamber portrait is the ordered result of that desire. A capital correspondent in years ago said he was minded by it of a man emerging from the steam room of a Turkish bath. And there was none in the chamber so lacking in commonsense reasoning—leaving capacity for artistic criticism wholly out of the question—as to take issue with the description.

Houston's portrait is not displaced for Bailey's for any factional politics, because of any desire to fame Bailey, certainly not from any desire to degrade the hero of the republic or to "slight his memory." That is the sheerest nonsense based on the sheerest misreport. Let the cold, hard, almost sordid fact be advertised—the Bailey portrait has been paid for, the Houston portrait has not been paid for. The painter said, apropos this removal controversy, that he does not paint pictures for fun. That is all there is the matter of removing Houston's portrait. And we venture that the painter will agree with us that neither did he paint that portrait for fame. For we think it fames him not at all.

Meanwhile Texas again has an opportunity to learn exactly how its events, frequently misreported, are written misrepresentedly at home and published misrepresentedly abroad.

We have too many holidays and too many proclamations.—Gov. Ralston of Indiana.

Now, aren't you setting a fine example for every snub-nosed, corn-haired youngster in Indiana who hopes to grow up to be governor of the State? Eliminate every proclamation, Ralston, and Indiana will be in no worse case—but touch not a single holiday! Rather should you order an holiday for the birthday anniversary of every poet and novelist of your Hoosier commonwealth. Thirty days of actual schooling in the year is enough, anyway.

FEDERAL CONTROL OF WATERWAYS.

A recent supreme court decision establishes important precedents as to federal and State control of waterways, and may have significant bearing on questions arising from the development of interstate streams for irrigation and power purposes. The decision, as analyzed by Washington authorities, and their comment thus collated by Springfield (Mo.) Leader, is regarded as the most notable and far-reaching decision upon waterways since the opinion of Chief Justice Gibbons vs. Ogden, which has come to be considered by bench and bar the leading case on the powers granted by the commerce clause of the constitution.

In the case of the United States vs. Chandler-Dunbar Water Power Co., the decision not only wipes out all private title to property worth $3,500,000 and voids an award of $550,000 by the lower court, but also establishes the control by federal government of waterways "even," as one commentator declares, "perhaps ultimately to the spring and the brook at the source."

The government found it necessary to condemn the property of the water power company in order to provide for the growth of commerce at the outlet of Lake Superior, by the building of new locks.

Senator Theodore E. Burton, a member of the commerce committee and an authority upon the waterways of the country, believes that the decision of the supreme court "sustains the views of the most advanced advocates of federal control of water power. It establishes not merely the paramount control of the federal government for purposes of navigation, but also the right of congress to control and dispose of such water improvement of navigation. In view of other decisions it would seem beyond question that such control extends not only to the navigation portion of space, but to every reach of a stream and its tributaries, even to their source."

It was Senator Burton's further opinion that the decision makes the federal government supreme in the harmonious development of water courses, especially when they form or cross the boundaries of States, to prevent monopoly of water power enterprises and to exercise control of rates of service when necessary, particularly when the business becomes interstate in character.

In the Chandler-Dunbar Water company case, Justice Lurton, delivering the unanimous opinion of the court, held that the company, as riparian owners, had no "vested property right in the water power inherent in the falls and rapids of the river, and no right to place in the river the works essential to any practical use of the flow of the river, and the government cannot be justly required to pay for an element of value which did not inhere in these parcels as upland."

Further in the opinion Justice Lurton wrote:

"The title of the owner of fast land upon the shore of a navigable river to the bed of the river is at best a qualified one. It is a title which inheres in the ownership of the shore and, unless reserved or excluded by implication, passed with it as a shadow follows a substance, although it is capable of distinct ownership. It is subordinate to the public right of navigation, and, however helpful in protecting the owner against the acts of third parties, it is of no avail against the exercise of the great and absolute power of congress over the improvement of navigable rivers. All means having some positive relation to the end in view are not forbidden by some other provision of the constitution as inadmissible."

On the judgment of congress, the use of the bottom of the river is proper for the purpose of placing there a structure in aid of navigation. It is not thereby taking private property for a public use, for the owner's title was in its very nature subject to that use in the interest of public navigation. The government is not required to remove or alter or to obstruct navigation."

Another matter settled by this decision is the right of the government not only to use for its own purposes any excess of water power which results from works which the government may construct in the improvement of navigable rivers, but also to sell, lease or otherwise dispose thereof to other parties. The court says: "If the primary purpose is legitimate, we can see no sound objection to leasing any excess of power over the needs of the government."

A Judicial Sweeneyism.

Mulattoes, negroes, Malays, whites, millionaires, paupers, princes, kings stand in the courts of Mississippi on precisely the same exacting equal footing.—The Court, in Hampton vs. The State, 88 Miss., 257.

When, and in which courts? Surely not in the court of Lynch, J. There only negroes and mulattoes have either "standing" for five minutes or swinging for five hours. And the court of Lynch, J. seems to be doing a thriving business in Mississippi still. As to the millionaires, the princes and the kings, if one of any of these breeds appeared in a Mississippi court there would be a sensation compared with which that libel suit in Michigan would seem as commonplace as the police judge calling the drunks docket of a Monday morning. The English of that dictum is not its only feature in need of heroic treatment. We may overlook the "break," but the bluff must be called.

IN CONFESSION AND AVOIDANCE.

Correspondents are requested to refrain this week from letters in criticism of the number and quality of the editorials. The sanctum is within ten yards of the operator who is receiving the report of the W. S. And if each team continues to upset our calculations by acting perfectly "at home" in the other's city, it is very likely our stuff will be even worse.

We wish to offer an half-apology to Representative Mann for some of our comments on his behavior as leader of the minority when the tariff bill was tumbling through the house. The way he brought the returns from the first w. s. game to the attention of the house, Tuesday, indicates he has his share of wit, red blood and Americanism. What imports a mere deficiency bill compared with evidences of the Giants' deficiency in the matter of pitchers?

Let Secretary Daniels have his three first-class men of war if it will put the United States second to Great Britain in naval strength. German shipyards need the money that will be demanded by the Fatherland in this game of international tag, if Germany drops to third place.

Now for a broadside on the fact that young Mr. Ryan, who gave Tammany testimony in the Sulzer trial, is a son of a New York "traction magnate." Somewhere, somehow, we have heard that Tammany is not unacquainted with the granting of public utility franchises.

The alleged smugglers of ammunition in jail at Pearsall arranged a hunger strike. We can only repeat our advice to the keepers of Holloway jail in the trouble with the mill suits. —let 'em starve; it is an infallible cure for hot blood.

"The butcher, the baker—" runs the old saw. The world's series is calling attention to a Baker who is also a butcher, with a telegraph pole his weapon and an army of Gothamites his victims.

"Piedras Negras falls without firing a shot." The "government" in Mexico City seems to be having an unusual run of luck. That's the way Madero fell, too.

Doubtless Mr. Collins deserved all the cailins Mr. McGillicuddy doubtless bestowed.

Mr. Baker must be as welcome in New York as the tax assessor.

And there is anatheMathewson in Philadelphia this day.

Not to mention the weak end of one Plank.

The Taste Stimulates His Appetite.

"Lieutenant Governor Mayes is acting governor while Governor Colquitt is in Panama." Palestine Record adds to the necessary notices of the substitution, "Governor Mayes' sounds fine and we dare say he holds the job down." Comparatively, we dare say he holds down the job from A. to Z. He not only holds it down but wants to salt its tail and keep it.

Tampering With Our Prerog's.

Fort Worth Star-Telegram suggests "it might be well for John Lind to return home. He may be needed as a peace envoy to Nashville, where a particularly obstreperous legislature can't get its good manners on straight." We regret that the S-T sees fit to start something in the dangerous question of State rights. An useless and expensive legislature is the inalienable prerogative of every commonwealth and the government at Wash. will be attempting an unfinished job if it offers even a suggestion to the contrary.

Excellently Put.

There is in Cleburne Review quite the briefest and best review of the necessity and power of advertising we have encountered in many a day, with especial reference to local trade. It merits reprinting: "Let an outsider come along with a railroad wreck stock of goods and advertise them and the people gobble them up right now. The home merchants howl and want a right to do so, but in doing this they acknowledge the great power of publicity. The home merchant has all the advantage. He is known at home, he has the best stock of goods, he pays taxes, etc., and the people had rather trade with him, but he must tell the people know what he has and tell them about his goods in such a way as to make them go." Advertising is the only answer to the complaint of the itinerant merchant, the peddler. The storekeeper remains in his store; if he does not advertise he expects the housewife to come to his place and look over his stock, or telephone an inquiry as to what he has to offer. The peddler goes to his home and shows his wares. Think it over. The average housewife is energetic enough, but she prefers to conserve her energy against the unceasing demands of housekeeping. And she desires to see exactly what she is buying, or to know from a reliable source at the very least.

So We Were Right!

The Waco Morning News seems to think that the Messenger has it in for Schwenger, editor of the Brady Standard. Right-o, we've no more use for Schwenger than we have for his number eleven feet.—Messner.

The Proposed City Charter

The sub-committee of citizens engaged in the preparation of a new charter for the city of Waco has completed the draft of the document, which is to be submitted to the people later for their adoption or rejection. It is a lengthy document. Believing the people are interested in the charter, the Morning News will publish it in daily installments. These installments can be preserved and when the publication is complete the clippings will make a complete charter.

Censorship, Theatres, Etc.

Art. 281. The board of commissioners shall have power to have and maintain a censorship over theatres, picture shows and all places of public amusement, entertainment, regulation, control and supervise the character thereof, exhibitions given and pictures or other matter exhibited for public entertainment in all such places, and to forbid any exhibition that in its judgment is indecent, immoral or calculated to affect injuriously the morals of the people, and if deemed advisable by it, to create a board of censors and invest such board with all such powers, and to pass all such criminal ordinances as may be necessary to punish persons violating the same.

Animals.

It shall have power to prohibit and punish the abuse of animals; compel persons to fasten their horses while left standing upon streets; to establish public pounds, and to regulate, restrain or prohibit the running at large of any animal or fowl within the city, and to authorize the impounding and sale of same for the cost of the proceeding and penalty incurred and to order their destruction when they cannot be sold, and to impose penalties upon the owners thereof for the violation of any ordinance prohibiting the same; to tax, regulate and prohibit the running at large of dogs, and to authorize the destruction when at large contrary to the ordinance and to impose penalties upon the owners or keepers thereof for the violation of such ordinances.

Crimes.

Art. 284. The board of commissioners shall have power to pass all ordinances necessary to prevent crime and punish offenders and criminals.

To Remit Fines and Penalties.

Art. 285. The board of commissioners shall have power to remit in whole or in part, on such conditions as it may deem proper, by a vote of three-fourths of the commissioners, any fine or penalty belonging to the city which may be imposed or incurred under any ordinance of the city.

General Welfare.

Art. 286. It shall have power to pass all ordinances necessary or expedient to control and regulate commerce within the city, and to regulate, locate and otherwise control same upon the streets and other public places, and to prevent the sale at retail or job lots of commodities upon the tracks or switches or right of way, or from the cars of any railway company running into or through the city.

General Welfare.

Art. 287. It shall have power to pass all ordinances and resolutions necessary to protect, promote and maintain in respect to the general welfare of the city and the inhabitants thereof, and of the specific enumerations of special powers in other parts of this charter shall not be construed or held to limit the power of the board of commissioners, in addition to all other powers enumerated, all such other powers subject only to constitutional and statutory limitations, that may be exercised by the governing power of a municipal corporation to regulate and control by ordinance all matters subject to municipal control.

Public Charities.

Art. 288. The board of commissioners shall have power to regulate and control public charities and shall create a board of public charities and prescribe its powers and duties.

Public Band.

Art. 289. The board of commissioners shall have power to appropriate and expend from the public revenue an amount not exceeding the sum of one cent of the assessed valuation of all taxable property in the city of Waco during any one year for the purpose of inculcating and encouraging the love of music and assisting and maintaining a public band, and giving free public concerts.

Public Library.

Art. 290. The board of commissioners shall have power to acquire, establish, maintain and regulate a free public library or libraries for all purposes that such libraries are commonly used, and shall provide the necessary revenue for the maintenance thereof by the levy and collection annually of two cents on the one hundred dollars valuation of all taxable property in the city of Waco, and to create and appoint such boards and commissioners and make such rules and regulations for the maintenance and control thereof as it may deem to be the best interest of the inhabitants of said city.

Official Newspaper.

Art. 291. The board of commissioners shall have power to annually contract with, and by ordinance or resolution designate a public newspaper of the city as the official organ thereof and to continue as such until another is elected, and shall cause to be published therein all ordinances, notices and other matter required by this charter, or by the ordinances of the city to be published.

Extension of City Limits.

Art. 292. The corporation of the city of Waco shall have power to extend its corporate limits, and shall be liable to all just and legal indebtedness of said city without reference to when same was contracted, and the property included therein shall be subject to taxation and to the same effect as existed previous to such extension.

Extension of City Limits.

Art. 293. All general ordinances levying or assessing taxes for the fiscal year in which such extension shall be made shall apply equally to all property included within the corporate limits of said city including that within such extended limits and said taxes

ing such election which shall be published for at least twenty days before such election in the official newspapers published in said city.

Art. 294. Such ordinance shall designate the voting places within such extended limits, which shall be not less than six nor more than fifteen, and shall define the boundaries of each of such voting precincts, and it shall be the duty of the board of commissioners to provide for the holding of such election and the same shall be governed, held, returns made and the result determined under the same laws, rules and regulations as provided for general elections held within the city.

Art. 295. The board of commissioners shall have the ballots for such election prepared and furnished to the election officers as in other elections, upon which shall be printed the words, "For the ordinance extending the city limits." Against the ordinance extending the city limits."

Art. 296. The board of commissioners shall canvass the votes cast at such election as in other elections and shall have the same entered upon the minutes of such board and declare the result of such election.

Art. 297. If a majority of the votes cast at such election shall be for the adoption of such ordinance the board of commissioners shall declare the same defeated.

Art. 298. Should less than a majority of the votes cast at such election be for the adoption of such ordinance, then the board of commissioners shall declare the same defeated.

Art. 299. On petition. Should fifty or more qualified voters, living within any territory outside and adjacent to the limits of the city of Waco, who are property owners therein as shown by the last assessment rolls of McLennan county, petition the board of commissioners to extend the city limits so as to include said territory within such limits, said board may, if it deems it to the interest of the city to include the territory, or a part thereof, in which such petitioners reside within the city limits, by resolution defining the boundaries by a distinct specification thereof, and order an election therein to be held within not less than twenty nor more than thirty days thereafter, to determine whether or not such territory shall be included within the city limits, and provide such petitioners guarantee to the city the payment of all costs, if any, of holding such election.

Art. 300. Said board shall at the same time, if they order such election, declare qualified voters and place or places of holding same, and shall select three disinterested citizens and tax payers of the city of Waco as judges for each voting place of such election to hold the same, one of whom shall be designated as the presiding officer of such election, who shall have like power with other presiding officers of elections, to appoint others to aid in holding such elections and to administer all oaths appertaining to his duties as such presiding officer of an election.

Art. 301. None but qualified voters living within said territory, and who are property owners therein as shown by the last assessment rolls of McLennan county, shall be eligible to vote at said election, and the presiding officer of such election shall administer an oath to each person offering to vote, to the effect that he is such qualified voter and property holder in said territory, and shall declare his place of residence therein, and his place of residence shall be noted opposite his name on the list of persons voting at said election and the presiding officer of such election shall administer an oath to each person offering to vote, to the effect that he is such qualified voter and property holder in said territory, and shall declare his place of residence therein, and his place of residence shall be noted opposite his name on the list of persons voting at said election and the presiding officer of such election shall administer an oath to each person offering to vote, to the effect that he is such qualified voter and property holder in said territory, and shall declare his place of residence therein, and his place of residence shall be noted opposite his name on the list of persons voting at said election and the presiding officer of such election shall administer an oath to each person offering to vote, to the effect that he is such qualified voter and property holder in said territory, and shall declare his place of residence therein, and his place of residence shall be noted opposite his name on the list of persons voting at said election and the presiding officer of such election shall administer an oath to each person offering to vote, to the effect that he is such qualified voter and property holder in said territory, and shall declare his place of residence therein, and his place of residence shall be noted opposite his name on the list of persons voting at said election and the presiding officer of such election shall administer an oath to each person offering to vote, to the effect that he is such qualified voter and property holder in said territory, and shall declare his place of residence therein, and his place of residence shall be noted opposite his name on the list of persons voting at said election and the presiding officer of such election shall administer an oath to each person offering to vote, to the effect that he is such qualified voter and property holder in said territory, and shall declare his place of residence therein, and his place of residence shall be noted opposite his name on the list of persons voting at said election and the presiding officer of such election shall administer an oath to each person offering to vote, to the effect that he is such qualified voter and property holder in said territory, and shall declare his place of residence therein, and his place of residence shall be noted opposite his name on the list of persons voting at said election and the presiding officer of such election shall administer an oath to each person offering to vote, to the effect that he is such qualified voter and property holder in said territory, and shall declare his place of residence therein, and his place of residence shall be noted opposite his name on the list of persons voting at said election and the presiding officer of such election shall administer an oath to each person offering to vote, to the effect that he is such qualified voter and property holder in said territory, and shall declare his place of residence therein, and his place of residence shall be noted opposite his name on the list of persons voting at said election and the presiding officer of such election shall administer an oath to each person offering to vote, to the effect that he is such qualified voter and property holder in said territory, and shall declare his place of residence therein, and his place of residence shall be noted opposite his name on the list of persons voting at said election and the presiding officer of such election shall administer an oath to each person offering to vote, to the effect that he is such qualified voter and property holder in said territory, and shall declare his place of residence therein, and his place of residence shall be noted opposite his name on the list of persons voting at said election and the presiding officer of such election shall administer an oath to each person offering

SECTION XXXII.

City Constituted Independent School District.

Art. 309. The city of Waco shall continue to be an independent school district as heretofore created by special acts of the legislature and the school trustees thereof shall continue to have charge of, govern, maintain and control free schools within said city subject to the constitution and laws of this state and in compliance therewith.

Art. 310. Until ordered changed, amended or repealed all rules, regulations, resolutions and ordinances in reference to said schools now in effect in said city shall remain and have full force and effect over all the territory included and that may be hereafter included within the corporate limits thereof.

Art. 311. The territory added to the city of Waco by any extension of the city limits thereof shall thereby become attached to the independent school district composed of the city of Waco and the pro rata public free school fund of the pupils enrolled from said district shall be paid to the trustees thereof and the title to all of the public free school property situated in the territory so attached to said Waco Independent School District shall immediately become vested in the trustees of the Waco Independent School District and said trustees shall assume and pay off all indebtedness thereon.

Art. 312. All taxes levied for school purposes on any property situated in the territory so attached which have not been paid, shall be paid to and collected by the city of Waco and by it turned over to the trustees of said "Independent School District."

(This ends the publication of the city charter.)

LOW CHURCH WINNER

IN VOTE FOR PRESIDENT OF DEPUTIES HIGH EPISCOPAL LIANS LOSE.

Matter of Changing Name of Church Will Not Be Brought Up, Is Belief.

New York, Oct. 8.—What was looked upon as the first test of voting strength between the high church and low church factions came today at the triennial convention of the Protestant Episcopal church when the Rev. Dr. Alex. Mann, rector of Trinity church, Boston, was elected president of the house of deputies. Dr. Mann was candidate of the low church element and defeated the Rev. W. T. Manning, rector of Trinity church, New York, by the vote of 259 to 242.

The president wields a strong influence in the councils of the house of deputies. He has duties and powers similar to those of the speaker of the house of representatives in the United States.

The election of Dr. Mann was regarded by members of the low church party as a substantial victory. One result of the vote, some of them declared, would be the question of changing the denominational name to the American Catholic church, which would not be placed before the convention. High church delegates asserted on the other hand that the vote was too close to give any indication what course legislation would take.

Dr. Manning, upon learning of his defeat, moved to have the election of Dr. Mann made unanimous. This was done and balloting for secretary was begun. Dr. Henry Anstice of New York, who served in this capacity at the convention in Cincinnati three years ago, was elected. His was the only nomination. Dr. Mann appointed as assistant secretaries the Rev. Carroll M. Davis of St. Louis, Rev. Wm. C. Prot of Haverhill, N. Y., and Rev. James G. Glass of Annapolis, Md. The house of bishops at an executive business meeting today elected Bishop Boyd Vincent of Southern Ohio, chairman and re-elected Dr. Samuel Hart of Connecticut secretary. It was announced that a memorial was presented to Bishop Alfred Hardinge of Washington, proposing a constitutional amendment providing for a revised method of representation in the house of deputies. What action was taken, if any, was not stated. The house of bishops will resume its meeting tomorrow morning.

Bishop Hardinge's memorial was read later before the house of deputies in open session and was referred to a committee on amendment and constitution yet to be reported. Tomorrow the house of deputies will consider several proposed amendments left over from the 1910 convention.

Suffered for Five Years

with bowel trouble and obtained only temporary relief until a friend recommended Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey.

"I suffered for five years with a very bad form of bowel trouble and could get but slight temporary relief. I was induced by a friend to try Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. The result was marvelous."

"I am feeling fine and trust many more may use your splendid product and be restored to health again, as I have."

"I hope you will give this letter the widest publicity so others having a similar trouble may find relief as I have, for it is the remedy I had long sought." Fred O. Smith, 14 Linwood Street, Roxbury, Mass.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

If every man and woman in the United States would only appreciate what this great family medicine does toward building up the system, much of the illness would be avoided. When people get sick they blame different causes, but if they would only stop and think, the chief cause is the system is allowed to run down; the blood becomes thin, the digestive organs are not strong enough to do their work properly, the tissues become weakened, the kidneys are unable to carry off the waste matter. The result is pains, aches and all kinds of troubles. Just give your system a chance; build it up by taking Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey as directed; it will build new tissue, by helping the stomach to digest the food, strengthen the heart action, enrich the blood and invigorate the body, brain and nerves.

Sold in SEALED BOTTLES ONLY by most druggists, grocers and dealers, $1.00 a large bottle. Our doctors will send you advice free, together with a valuable illustrated medical booklet on application.

Why is the soda cracker today such a universal food?

People ate soda crackers in the old days, it is true—but they bought them from a barrel or box and took them home in a paper bag, their crispness and flavor all gone.

Uneeda Biscuit—soda crackers better than any ever made before—made in the greatest bakeries in the world—baked to perfection—packed to perfection—kept to perfection until you take them, oven-fresh and crisp, from their protecting package. Five cents.

NATIONAL BISCUIT COMPANY

MASSACRE SPANIARDS

WITH CAPTURE OF TORREON, A HORRIBLE SLAUGHTER REPORTED.

Between 60 and 100 Spanish Citizens in the City—Communication Cut Off.

Mexico City, Oct. 8.—With the capture of Torreon by the rebels, rumors became current today of a massacre of Spaniards which, if confirmed, would approach the horror of the massacre of Chinese in the same city during the Madero revolution in 1910. It is estimated that there are between 60 and 100 Spaniards in the city of Torreon. Refugees who have communicated with the officials in that district say it has been a common boast that they would slaughter the Spaniards if they succeeded in capturing the town.

The Spanish minister to Mexico, Senor Colomer, was without information tonight further than the reports, but was greatly concerned. He held a long conference with the American charges, Nelson O'Shaughnessy, and the latter made an appointment with the Mexican foreign minister. The American charge is convinced of the truth of the capture of the city and has notified Washington. Few Americans are left in Torreon. Besides Spaniards, there are a number of French and German residents in Torreon. Their diplomatic representatives are making efforts to learn their fate.

The rebels are said to be headed by Francisco Villa, whose reported capture and execution by the federals recently was later disproved. They are said to have swooped down unexpectedly the last of September, the federals evacuating.

Every effort has been made by authorities here to keep the news of the affair from the public. The newspapers today even failed to print a reference to the persistent rumors last night. In banking circles the capture of Torreon was credited and caused a jump of 20 points in exchange.

Torreon has been under siege for many weeks, but it was recently reported that the rebels had been driven back. It has always been feared by the authorities to be impregnable because of the heavy artillery with which it is protected.

Say Aubert Is Traitor. Mexico City, Oct. 8.—Another unconfirmed report tonight is that Gen. Truicy Aubert, who with 2000 men left Saltillo three weeks ago to march to the relief of Torreon, has gone over to the rebels.

German Subject Still Held. San Francisco, Oct. 8.—That Frederick Jensen, wealthy shipping man of this port and subject of the German emperor, either never was released from the custody of the federal authorities at Guaymas, Mex., or has been re-arrested, was the conclusion reached by the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce today on the receipt from its representative in Washington. The latter telegraphed that the news dispatches reporting Jensen's release were unconfirmed and that the German minister at Mexico City was using every means to have him set free.

Captain Joe Hinder, who is looking after Jensen's interests during his absence, reported to the German consul general that official communication at Mexico City, who had reported Monday that Jensen was released. Captain Hinder also advised Jensen's brother in Germany, and the latter is reported to have taken the matter of the shipping man's confinement as a political prisoner in Mexico up with the German foreign minister.

No information has reached San Francisco as to the reason for Jensen's arrest on September 25.

BANKERS IN OPPOSITION

thanks to the president and to congress. "I want an amendment to the Glass bill. Don't mistake me, but if you gentlemen think you are going to win a compromise from congress if you agree before them in a spirit of hostility, I tell you you will get nothing."

President McMillen echoed the views of Mr. O'Neill. It was moved that, in order to give everyone a fair hearing consideration of the matter should go over until after a recess was taken.

After the delegates had reconvened Mr. O'Neill's amendment was carried. The resolutions, as amended, were considered and voted upon, sentence by sentence, then as a whole. In the vote on certain sentences Congressmen McRae alone was heard in opposition; then on the vote on the resolution as a whole S. D. Scudder of Richmond, Va., announced himself opposed. There were the only voices heard in dissent. The resolutions finally adopted were as follows:

Resolved, That we approve the work of the currency commission and that we ratify and endorse the action of the Chicago conference, the conclusions they reached and the recommendations they made.

Resolved, That we urge upon congress the wisdom and the necessity of incorporation into the proposed law the amendments recommended by the Chicago conference, all of which have been elaborately presented to the committee on banking and currency of the United States senate, in which body the proposed law is now pending.

Any law issued by congress in order to be effective and realize in full measure the purposes they are seeking must commend the approval and enlist the co-operation of the banks of the country, both state and national.

Resolved, That we commend the president, the secretary of the treasury and congress for their efforts to bring about an elastic as well as safe currency, and pledge them our hearty support for the enactment of proper legislation to that end.

When the currency discussion was finished Acting President Reynolds gave the gavel over to another and made a statement, saying: "This meeting resulted in the most positive action ever taken by the bankers of America on the currency question, first, because it is the largest convention ever attended to discuss this question, representing banks of all classes, large and small, throughout the United States. Second, because it was a free forum for the discussion and every opportunity was given the bankers to express their views."

Bankers' Views Clear. There were present about 400 bankers representative of the views of the nearly 4,000 banks at this convention from all parts of the United States. Yet there was only one dissenting vote when a rising vote was called for. I don't think it will be possible to give the members of congress a clearer expression of the views of the bankers than as extended.

"This has been given without desire in any sense to antagonize the administration of the country or congress, but rather to give them a honest and frank expression of the changes necessary in the proposed bill to make it properly serve the great commercial interest of the country."

Finally committed to its attitude on currency reform, the convention took up the report of a committee on changes in the constitution and by-laws of the association and consideration of this occupied the remainder of the day. The report was adopted. The general nominating committee announced the nomination of Arthur Reynolds of Des Moines, the first president, for president. The committee also announced W. A. Law of Philadelphia for first vice president.

U. S. Army Captain Dead. Worcester, Mass., Oct. 8.—Captain Edward Hill, adjutant of the Sixth field artillery, stationed at Fort Riley, Kan., died here today from heart disease. The body will be sent to Concord, N. C., for burial.

New Interlocking Plant. Denison, Oct. 8.—The new interlocking plant just erected by the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railway, has been placed in service.

IN THE HIGHER COURTS

FIRST DECISIONS HANDED DOWN IN STATE COURTS AT AUSTIN.

The Katy Against Judge Fierston of Greenville, Heard on Oral Argument.

Austin, Oct. 8.—The courts of the state—the supreme, criminal, appellate and third court of appeals, met in session today and the first decisions of the term were handed down. No decisions were rendered in the supreme court and the docket showed but five cases considered. The case of the Katy railroad against Judge William Fierston of Greenville, was heard on oral argument. The case involved the right of the district judge to enter a final judgment during vacation period of court.

In the court of criminal appeals three cases were affirmed, eleven were submitted on brief and oral argument for both; eleven for both and thirteen on brief for the state. Twenty-five cases were set for October 22, and twenty-seven cases set for October 27. The third court of appeals refused motions for rehearing in seven cases, overruled motion to advance one case, for rehearing in the case of A. R. Conley, superintendent of public buildings and grounds, vs. the Daughters of the Confederacy for the possession of a room now occupied by them in the capitol, was overruled. The case will go to the supreme court, according to attorneys. The case of Comptroller W. P. Lane vs. Saint Volz and Folwell of Travis will also go to the supreme court on a writ of error. The liquor license of the defendants had been forfeited by the comptroller and district court ordered it reinstated. The appellate court affirmed the judgment.

The following proceedings were had in the court of criminal appeals today:

Affirmed—Sanks Criner, from Henderson; Alfredo Figueroa, from Jim Wells; Sam Matthews, from San Augustine.

Submitted on brief and oral argument for both—Walter Brown, from Upshur; Thomas Berry Sr. from Henderson; Frank Willis, from McLennan; Howard Miller, from Bee; Lulu Cockrell, from Correll; R. O. Shoemaker, from Coleman; Taylor Reynolds, from Shackelford; ex parte Elbert Muncy, from Floyd; ex parte Charles Francis, from Wilbarger; ex parte Bud Russell, from Harris; ex parte W. C. Stephenson, from Hardin. On brief for both—Jim Harwell from Johnson; Oswald Cannon, from Brazoria; T. J. Windham, from Newton; Patrick Portwood, from Hopkins; I. Harris, from Wheeler; Will McGill, from Johnson; H. H. Hays, from Liberty; John McGregor, from San Patricio; T. J. Edwards, from Throckmorton; ex parte Thomas Coffee, from Mitchell.

On brief for the state—F. H. Day, from Wichita; George Grimes, from Dallas; Emanuel Thomas, from Sabine; Oliver Chilson, from Tarrant; Bill Stubbs, from Limestone; Bud Young, from Grayson; L. H. St. Clair from Dallas; Jim Easter, from Stone-wall; Ethel Thompson Redo, from Newton; Cal Heidenberg, from Newton; Lonkoria Moreno, from Medina; B. J. Cobb, from Bowie; ex parte Federico Gomez and ex parte Frank Martin, from Brooks.

On brief for appellant—Alma J. Bonds, from Robinson.

On record—C. C. Fisher, from Colfax; ex parte Josh David, from Nacogdoches.

On motion to dismiss appeal—G. D. Moore, from Dallas.

Cases set for submission October 15—Jesus Valdez from Prio, M. M. Hays from Tarrant, M. C. Pigg from Hamilton, Walter Scott from Hamilton, I. S. Q. Cooper from Madison, Dene Maud Creed from Potter, Walter Thomas from Wichita, Max Keys from Wichita, Effie Vine from Fannin, Henry Strickland from Houston, Emma Hightower from Nacogdoches, Ed Nelson from Ellis, J. W. Pickle from Jasper, Lester Black from Ellis, Bud Rogers from Jefferson, Frank Stewart from Fisher, Oscar Kinball from Harris, I. K. Hickman from Roberts, Simon Ramos from Hardin, Hattie Johnson from Madison, Glen Robinson from Calhoun, C. A. Johnson from Taylor, Roy Curry from Taylor, Ernest Sewell from Walker.

Cases set for submission October 22—Frank Kirklin from Tarrant, Willie Whitten from Harrison, Wesley Daniels from Caldwell, Mammie Hicks from Caldwell, Glen Wilson from Austin, C. A. Johnson from Taylor, Roy Curry from Taylor, Ernest Sewell from Walker.

Motion to advance overruled—S. M. Ray Sr. vs. City of Belton et al. from Bell. Motions granted—Southwestern Traction company vs. W. I. Melton, from Bell, to file the transcript; Henry Tompkins et al. vs. Walton Pendleton from Walker, for rehearing and papers attached to motion ordered filed as a part of the record.

Cases submitted—E. E. Witt et al. vs. E. M. Wilson from Bell, Brazoria County vs. Willie Day Padgett et al. from Coleman, Higgins Bros. vs. H. G. Cooke vs. Beaumont, South Lake & Western Railway company from Liberty, Aaron Day vs. J. H. Allen et al. from Liberty, T. B. KATY HEARING OCTOBER 30

Consolidation Case Comes Before Judge Calhoun at Austin on This Date.

Austin, Tex., Oct. 8.—The Katy railroad, together with seven other railroads, named as defendants in the case instituted by the state alleging unconstitutional of the Katy consolidation bill, and the attorneys of the state will appear before Judge George Calhoun of the Sixty-Third District court on October 30. This is the date that has been set aside by Judge Calhoun for the hearing of the motions filed by the defendants. The state asks for dissolution of the proposed and alleged combination and penalties totalling $15,000,000.

Hailstorm at St. Louis. St. Louis, Oct. 3.—A heavy local hailstorm, succeeded by a cloudburst and a high wind, broke over the western part of St. Louis today, flooding streets, breaking windows and tearing down trees and sign boards.

How to Make Better Cough Syrup than You Can Buy

A Family Supply, Saving 50 and Fully Guaranteed.

A full pint of cough syrup—as much as you could buy for $2.50—can easily be made at home. You will find nothing that takes hold of the ordinary cough more quickly, usually conquering it inside of 24 hours. Excellent, too, for spasmodic croup, whooping cough, bronchitis, and all kinds of coughs.

Mix one pint of granulated sugar with 1½ pint of warm water, and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2½ ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a pint bottle, then add the Sugar Syrup, and keep perfectly. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

This is just laxative enough to help loosen a cough, also stimulates the appetite, which is usually upset by a cough. The taste is pleasant.

The effect of pine and sugar syrup on the inflamed membranes is well known. Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, rich in quercetin and other natural healing pine elements. Other preparations will not work in this combination. This Pinex and Sugar Syrup remedy has often been imitated, but the old successful mixture has never been equalled. It is now used in more homes than any other cough remedy.

A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. Your druggist has Pinex, or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Dies When Home Run Baker Fans

Philadelphia, Oct. 8.—While watching an electric score-board during today's game between the Giants and Athletics, John Sherrick collapsed on the sidewalk and died a few minutes later. It was during the first inning of the contest and eye-witnesses declare Sherrick had just yelled, "Give us another homer, Baker," when the play reproduced on the score-board showed that the Athletics' star batter had struck out and the excited fan dropped to the pavement.

Heart failure is believed to have caused his death.

Drops Dead When Matty Gets a Hit

New York, Oct. 8.—A middle-aged man who had been leading the cheering in front of a Park Row bulletin board today dropped dead of heart disease when the news was flashed that Mathewson had made a hit in the tenth inning. The victim overcame carried a Bowery Mission membership card in his pocket and letters addressed to Edward O'Brien.

When "Rattlesnake Pete," cowboy and blacksmith, was arrested by Policeman James last night and locked up in the police station, the charge of being a suspicious character being entered against him, it was made public for the first time that W. H. Davis, dairyman, had been missing from his home since last Sunday.

"Rattlesnake Pete" Story. "Rattlesnake Pete," whose real name is T. L. Griffin, talked to several policemen and a reporter for the Morning News shortly after midnight.

"Walter Davis, the old gentleman's son, has done me a wrong," he said, "in making the complaint that caused my arrest. I know no more about where the old man is than he does. I was with the old gentleman last Sunday. He told me he was going to Temple and I believe that he is there. I walked to the Katy depot with him, and while he was standing on the platform I went into the station. It was then 5:20 o'clock. When I came out again to the platform the old man was gone. That was the last I saw of him."

Sold His Team for $50. "If they had caused my arrest because the old man sold his team for $50 before he went away they have made a mistake, for I could not prevent him from doing as he liked with his own property. He offered several times while he was with me and we were taking a few drinks to give any man $5 who would sell the team for $50 for me. I saw him later on sell the two mules and the wagon for that price. I know the man who bought the team by sight, but I don't know his name."

Walter Davis, the son of the missing dairyman, called at the police station last night and had a long talk with the officers. The team, which was sold for $50, has been returned to the Davis family by the buyer at the price he paid for it.

The wife and son of the missing dairyman have been making a search for him since Sunday night. Inquiries made in Temple elicited the information that nothing had been seen there of the elder Davis.

Walter Davis and his mother believe that the dairyman has met with foul play.

Julian Eltinge.

Tonight the managers of the Texas Power and Light company who will be in the city for a meeting of two days, will be guests of the company at the performance of Julian Eltinge at the Auditorium. A section of the house having been reserved by Local Manager W. S. Rathell. In addition to the managers, Manager Rathell will include a few invited guests in the theatre party.

In the Dallas News the following notice was given the production: "Julian Eltinge can be a perfect lady. He has been demonstrating that for some time and he proved it quite conclusively to a very large and most appreciative audience at the Dallas opera house last night in 'The Fascinating Widow,' in which he has the stellar role. Now if he were a little bit of a man, that term of a perfect lady might be intended to be derisive, but when he is a broad-shouldered, intensely masculine-looking six-footer in the beginning of the show, and then transforms himself into a most attractive woman of beauty and grace and talent in flirting with the other men, it can be understood that the term is strictly complimentary, not to say eulogistic.

"The play is good, too, the support is good, the scenery is good, the costumes are new and fresh and quite a la mode, and the music is well, it is very good, most unusually good for a play of its character. Now, when the play appeared here last year, he was not detracted from its worth one whit. "The Fascinating Widow" is it to supply several very pretty girls and a couple of college boys for the working out of the plot. Now, when the meaning Mr. Eltinge becomes 'she,' meaning this extraordinary widow, he, or she—surely it must be she—makes trouble all around, and lots of pure and frolic is supplied in the situations that follow. Now, when the enough strength to keep the interest up and then the fun and the dancing, which is excellent, and the singing, which is also good, do the rest and you are sure to enjoy it.

Mr. Eltinge shows himself a masterly impersonator and evidently enjoys the part. He is not in the least feminine as a man nor masculine as a woman—just natural and bubbling over with fun and life. Edward Gardner, with long hair, the college trainer, was also of the company last year and he is lots of fun and a good actor, too. Charles W. Butler, playing as the imitable college chaplain, does his part to perfection and has a particularly comical drunken stunt to perform. Margaret Leffingwell, the much-worried heroine, as played by Original rite Skerwin, is pretty and sweet and fills her part. June Mathis, as Tessie Danforth, and Lillian Spencer, as Ivy Tracy, are also deserving of credit, and the others of the cast are all well up to their parts, including eight very pretty chorus girls."

Neil O'Brien's Minstrels.

Neil O'Brien, the well-known and popular minstrel comedian, will make his appearance in this city at the head of his own organization at the Auditorium Friday. The Neil O'Brien minstrels this season have been received in the cities where it has already appeared with open arms of welcome and has been pronounced the best entertainment of its kind which has been staged in a decade. The entertainment is said to strike a new note in minstrelsy and to offer much that is new and novel in its program. Originality, refinement and class are the three predominant features which make the show stand forth and give it a place of superiority. Mr. O'Brien's company comprises a notable array of dancers, dancers, clever comedians and all the acts and features are staged with a lavish hand. All the stage settings, costumes and properties are brand new this season, nothing remaining of last season's production but a pleasant memory of the splendid performance given by Mr. O'Brien and his associates. Eddie Mazier, Pete Detzel, Casper Nowak, Walter Lindsay, Al Fontaine, Master George Hagren, Doran & Strunk, and a few more favorites of last season have been retained, while the new members include Eddie Ross, the famous monologist, with an international reputation; Ward Horton, the yodler; Joe Carey, a phenomenal tenor; Arthur Blake, baritone; Peppino, the wizard of the accordion; and a score of other celebrated entertainers.

KILLED UNDER WHEELS

WILL POUGH, A SWITCHMAN, MEETS VIOLENT DEATH ON RAIL.

He Is Believed to Have Fallen Asleep. Three Cars Passed Over Him.

Death came suddenly and in a horrible manner to Will Pough, a switchman employed on the spur tracks of the White Rock Sand and Gravel company, shortly after 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon, presumably while he was asleep. Three gravel cars passed over the body. The lower limbs were badly mangled. The upper portion of the body and the head were only bruised. The accident was discovered by John Baird, foreman of the company, who was passing on one of the cars which had passed over the man. Feeling the car jump, he looked down to see the head of a man extending from beneath the car wheels. He immediately gave the word to Engineer Milton Parish and the train was stopped to a stop. But too late. Death apparently was instant.

He Stopped to Rest.

The last seen of Pough alive was at 11:30 o'clock yesterday morning. He left a store building at the forks of the Port Graham and Dallas roads at that hour, headed towards the gravel tracks, which is a half mile distant. Presumably, and it is the belief of those who knew the man, he stopped to rest beneath the shade of one of the box cars standing on the spur, and fell asleep. At 1 o'clock when the crew went out to work the string of empty cars was started towards the gravel pit. In some manner Pough had reclined underneath the wheels of one of the cars.

Coroner Views Body.

Justice of the Peace Harvey M. Richey was summoned to the scene and viewed the body. He will take testimony in the inquest Friday.

Pough had been employed for eight months by the gravel company switchman on the spur track of that company, which connects with the main line of the railroad. Yesterday morning he was laid off together with other men. He had spent the morning hunting with two companions and had returned by way of the store which is near the work of the company.

Dragged Thirty-Five Feet.

The body was dragged thirty-five feet before the train was stopped. Blood, pieces of a bone from the hip joint, and bits of flesh strewn the railroad tracks over which the body had been drawn. Both legs were mashed out of semblance, the back and lower portions of the abdomen were torn to threads.

Pough came to Waco from Chalk Bluff, where he was raised. He is a member of the Woodmen's lodge. He leaves a wife and two children. A father, W. J. Pough, who resides on the farm of J. C. Lattimore, also survives.

The remains were taken in charge by the Fall Undertaking establishment.

UNPRECEDENTED CROWDS TO ATTEND THE COTTON PALACE

Various Added Attractions, New and Unique Free Acts, Everything More Elaborate and Entertaining.

Various traveling men, whose headquarters are in Waco, report that never before in the history of the Cotton Palace will there be such crowds as will be in the city during the exposition period this year, November 1st to 15th, all desiring to see the wondrous exhibits in more elaborate array than ever, the new improvements that will be inaugurated, the new buildings, the magnificent poultry hall, the motordrome and the like. The various sensational free acts, combined with a program the most entertaining ever prepared, the displays of cotton in every form, grain, livestock, poultry, etc., the pick of Texas' best in every line, will bring the masses. The showing of cotton in every process will be a most interesting feature this fall; the Roman chariot races will be a drawing card surprise. Then there must not forget those most delightful concerts that will be rendered by Ellyer's world-famous band, free to the multitudes in the beautiful Cotton Palace coliseum. What a pleasure it is in its entirety can be passed by every one, whatever the taste may be. There will be educational features of superlative merit, amusements galore; there will be free street parades, comical, allegorical and enchanting. Beautifully decorated autos, bicycles and floats will be in line for the delectation of the masses. There will be an old-time spelling match; there will be a country circus that will put on side-splitting laughs. There will be an ever-changing panorama that will keep you enraptured from the time you enter the gate until you have seen it all.

SANTA FE TRAINMAN KILLED

W. D. Wall Is Run Over Near Moody and Body Is Badly Mangled.

Tempe, Tex., Oct. 8.—The second Santa Fe railway trainman to meet a violent death within the past ten days was W. D. Wall, aged 24 years, a freight brakeman, who was run over and killed by passenger train No. 15 near Moody, fifteen miles north of here, Tuesday morning about 4:30 o'clock. The freight train on which he was working met the passenger at Moody and Wall was sent out as flagman. The other members of the crew missed him after the passenger had left and starting a search found his mangled body along the track, death having undoubtedly been instantaneous. No one saw the accident, just how it occurred remains a mystery. The body was brought to Tempe and funeral services were conducted here today. Wall came here from Houston about a year ago and his mother, Mrs. W. D. Wall Sr., and sister, Miss Lela, Wall, are here only a few days ago to pay him a short visit, being here when the tragedy occurred. They are prostrated with grief.

CONFERENCE AT TEMPLE.

Accommodations Are Sought for 400 Methodist Preachers.

Tempe, Tex., Oct. 8.—A thorough canvass is being conducted by committees representing the official boards of the Methodist churches of the city, the purpose being to secure promises of accommodations for the 400 or more Methodist preachers who will come here November 7 to attend the Central Texas District conference to be held at the First Methodist church. The committees are meeting with all the success anticipated in ample time. In addition to the preacher delegates, the number of lay delegates is expected to be fully as large and at least 1,000 visitors will be here during the week on an average. In addition the neighboring cities of Waco and Belton and smaller surrounding towns will send large delegations on special days.

Last Concert at Temple.

Tempe, Tex., Oct. 8.—The last municipal free band concert of the season will be given at City park on the night of October 10, which will conclude this class of entertainment, which was inaugurated largely through the efforts of the Chamber of Commerce. A series of twelve free open-air concerts has been given during the summer months and the events have all been successful.

W. G. Kingsbury to Move to Temple.

Tempe, Tex., Oct. 8.—Mayor W. G. Kingsbury of Morgan, who recently traded a large ranch in Bosque county to W. C. Martin of this city for the new four-story Martin hotel building, will move his family and residence to this city during the coming week and has made all arrangements looking to that end.

Revival at Temple.

Tempe, Tex., Oct. 8.—Under the leadership of Evangelist Lee P. Mansfield of Waco, the Church of Christ of this city is holding a revival service at the Greater Cotton Palace. Good congregations have attended the meetings thus far, despite the inclement weather and interest is at a high pitch. The services will continue indefinitely.

Child Dies at Temple.

Tempe, Tex., Oct. 8.—The death of Sarah Blanche Murphy, aged 10 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Murphy, occurred here yesterday, following a brief illness, and the body was sent to D'Hannis, the old home of the family, for interment.

Rains Damage Cotton.

Copperas Cove, Tex., Oct. 8.—Late rains have destroyed a great deal of cotton in the vicinity of Copperas Cove, but just how extensive the damage is cannot be told until the fields are sufficiently dry to enable pickers to resume work, which has been practically suspended for a period of three weeks. Many farmers report the cotton sprouting in the bolls, while others tell of green bolls littering the ground by the hundreds. These will be run through a huller attachment at the gin and in this manner it is thought that a great deal of cotton can be recovered that otherwise would be a dead loss.

Wedding at Copperas Cove.

Copperas Cove, Tex., Oct. 8.—Dr. Wilton Clements, formerly of this place, but now of Lexington, Tex., and Miss Willie Mae Hoover of Copperas Cove will be united in marriage at the bride's home here Sunday, October 12, and will make their home at Lexington. Both parties are popular and well known here.

RECOGNITION REFUSED

WASHINGTON WILL NOT ALLOW FEDERALISTS TO PASS THROUGH AMERICAN SECTION.

Considered in Same Standing as Constitutionalists—Refugees Suffer at Eagle Pass.

Eagle Pass, Tex., Oct. 8.—The attitude of the Washington authorities with reference to the standing of the federal government which now controls Piedras Negras was brought out this afternoon when the application of General Maas for permission to pass through American territory was refused with the explanation that the federalists would be treated in the same manner as the constitutionalists. The decision came when Maas in a communication delivered by the federal consul in Eagle Pass demanded the name of a country with great indignation. States was at peace with the United States and the right to proceed through Texas with a staff of twelve men for the purpose of consulting with the Mexican authorities at Nuevo Laredo.

All the document was framed in the language of diplomatic incursion. It was made known to the American government that the federalists would demand privileges not previously accorded to the constitutionalists and when the reply was received from Washington denying the application of General Maas there was great indignation manifested among his officers in the Mexican side. The text of Washington's answer to the request was withheld from publication but it is understood to have been that the laws of the United States would be upheld and the general and his army would be considered on the same footing as the constitutionalists under similar circumstances.

Clothing Held As Contraband.

At the meeting of the American military authorities under the supervision of Col. Carleton, it was decided that clothing purchased on behalf of the federalists came under the order forbidding the exportation of contraband of war. United States Commissioner Bonnett had ruled to the contrary. With the arrival of the federalists, agents have purchased a large amount of supplies from local merchants and the military authorities will hold these up as soon as an attempt is made to pass the international border.

In speaking for the military branch of the government Captain Biegar said this afternoon that the federalists would be accorded no privileges not accorded the constitutionalists and that all persons passing the border would be subject to search as in the past.

"As far as the exporting of goods is concerned the situation remains unchanged regardless of the demands of General Maas or anybody else. Because the federalists are not recognized representatives of the government does not absolve them from obeying the orders of President Wilson as laid down in his recent message to congress," said the captain.

Thousands of Mexicans in the city and factional feeling intense, the local civil authorities are having difficulty in maintaining order.

Americans of good reputation assert that a woman was hanged in Piedras Negras this morning on the charge that she was acting as a spy. This has been denied by the federal authorities. Despite the efforts of the immigration officials to relieve the necessities of more than eight thousand refugees cases of hunger are being reported especially among the children.

Refugees Refuse to Return.

After a conference between General Maas and representative Americans, assurances were given that the several thousand refugees now in Eagle Pass that their lives and interests would be protected, but almost unanimously the Mexicans refused to return to their own country unless Americans were given them for personal protection. The committee of Americans was headed by Judge E. A. Bonnet, United States commissioner at San Antonio, and he said to have given his word that the refugees would be housed and fed pending the reopening of commercial activities.

When Judge Bonnet told the refugees that food supplies would be cut off tomorrow unless they returned to Mexico and tonight the situation is considered as grave.

"Give us arms and we will return," was the burden of the replies that greeted the committee. The local authorities assert that the federal government should care for the refugees or else an appeal should be made to the American people as a whole. Unless the federal government assumes responsibility for their support it is probable that a general request for aid will be authorized.

U. S. Not Responsible.

Washington, Oct. 8.—With the decision today of John Bassett Moore, acting secretary of state, that the United States is not under international obligation to furnish asylum at Eagle Pass for Mexican refugees who are non-combatants, the problem of dealing with the thousands, mostly women and children, who have sought safety in the Texas town, passed from the department of labor for solution to the bureau of immigration. The task of the bureau is to identify the officials said tonight, as the Mexican commander at Piedras Negras has

COL. HOUSE PREPARES BOND WANT MAIL BY INTERURBAN

Will Be First Democrat to Hold Postmasterhip in Houston in Sixteen Years.

Houston, Oct. 8.—Col. T. W. House, brother of E. M. House, who was recently appointed and confirmed as postmaster for Houston, has prepared his bond and announced that he will assume charge of the office on October 15. He will be the first democrat to hold the position in more than sixteen years. Few changes are expected to result as civil service protects present job holders.

To Replace Salado Bridge.

Belton, Tex., Oct. 8.—The big steel bridge over the Salado river, which was washed away during the flood of last week, is to be replaced with a new structure and measurements for same were taken today. The old bridge was washed down stream for over a mile. Parts of it may be used in the new bridge to be erected.

Copperas Cove Schools Open.

Copperas Cove, Tex., Oct. 8.—The Copperas Cove public schools opened Monday with a smaller attendance than usual, owing to the large amount of unpicker cotton in this section, as a result of which many children will be delayed in attending school. The faculty for the year is composed of Prof. J. M. Wither, principal; Misses Cecil Carpenter, Orville Comer, Cordia Rutledge, Mrs. M. L. Patterson and W. D. Bell.

Injured in Runaway at Belton.

Belton, Tex., Oct. 8.—A team of mules driven to a farm wagon by Charles Jones, a well known farmer, took fright and ran away near Summers Mill, ten miles south of here, today, throwing Jones from his wagon and breaking a collar bone, in addition to the infliction of other injuries.

SLEEP DISTURBING BLADDER WEAKNESS BACKACHE-RHEUMATISM, QUICKLY VANISH

Even Most Chronic Sufferers Find Relief From Few Doses of Croxone.

Croxone soon relieves such conditions because it reaches the very roots of the disease. It soaks right into the stopped up, inactive kidneys, through the walls and linings; cleans out the little filtering cells and glands; neutralizes and dissolves the poisonous uric acid substances that lodge in the joints and muscles to scratch and irritate and cause rheumatism; heals the inflamed membranes of the bladder, and cleans out and strengthens the stopped up, lifeless kidneys so they can filter and sift all the poisons from the blood, and drive it out of the system.

So sure, so positive, so quick and lasting, are the results obtained from the use of Croxone, that three or four days for a few days are often all that is required to end the worst backache, bladder disorders and overcome the numerous other similar conditions. Croxone is so prepared that it is practically impossible to take it without results.

An original package costs but a trifle, and all druggists are authorized to return the purchase price if Croxone fails to give desired results, regardless of how old you are, how long you have suffered, or what else has failed.

BENDER IN FORM.

Bender in form is as good as any world's series pitcher ever was. He is invariably at his best at such times, a tough man to beat and the toughest world's series pitcher the Giants ever have faced. He has the veteran Plank to assist him and they are a formidable pair. Two good men can take a team over in a world's series of games. They have a degree of effective help from a third and fourth, and an important question is: Can the Athletics' staff supply that assistance? Can the Athletics' staff, if it needs be, distribute the burden as well as the New York four? There is a likely array to choose from, including Brown, Houck, Bush and Shawkey, any of whom is capable of flashing a good game and giving the assistance needed, but none of whom has pitched with the steady consistency of any of the New York four. They are more disposed to be erratic, while Tesreau is the only one of the four who has been erratic, and he less so for several weeks.

made a pretty throw to Wiltse, retiring the side.

Big Fletcher to Start Something.

New York rooters shouted for Fletcher to "start something" when he went to bat the fourth inning and he responded by slugging the ball to Barry, who made a fine stop and throw to first getting the ball there ahead of the runner. Herndon started to solve the puzzling cross-fire balls of Plank, struck out for the second time, amid much cheering on the part of the crowd. Shafer hit a grounder to Baker, who had lots of time to get the ball to first, but he was slow and Shafer was safe on the error. McGraw, who was coaching at first base, said something to Shafer and a moment later he started for second in an attempted steal, but Lapp's throw to Collins beat him and he was out.

In the Athletics' half of the fourth Collins hit to Mathewson and was out at first. Baker brought the fans to their feet by driving a hot single to right field. Doyle got his fingers on it as it shot past him on his left side, but only deflected the ball. Baker went to second on McGraw's out, Doyle to Wiltse. Mathewson had two strikes on Strunk when he lost his sense of location for a moment and the Athletics' batter got a first base on balls of the game. With two smart runners on the bases and a brainy man at the bat, the crowd shouted for a run. The runners were off with the pitch and Barry hit the ball, but it was a slow one and he was out at first.

The Athletics did not trouble Mathewson in the second inning as much as they did in the first. Strunk struck a grounder to Doyle, who got the ball cleanly this time and tossed the fast centerfielder out by inches. Burns went out by the strike-out route.

The best that Larry McLean could do when he came to bat in the third inning for New York was to pop up a fly to Barry. Snodgrass struck a single into left field and the crowd got its first good idea of the New Yorkers' chances for the game.

The home rooters cheered Eddie Murphy as he faced the old reliable Mathewson. His first pitch, unusual for him in a world's series game, was a ball, but the second was a strike and then Murphy sent a slow grounder to Doyle. The New York captain, in his anxiety to make a quick throw to head off the first runner, let the ball go between his legs and Murphy was safe. Herndon, Oidring, waited for what he wanted and slashed a single to left field, sending Murphy down to second base. Then Collins did what everybody expected him to do, sacrificed. Snodgrass to Doyle, advancing both teammates. "Hit 'er out, Baker," shouted the Athletic rooters as the home-run here stopped to the plate, picked up some dirt and rubbed it on his hands. Mathewson, unperturbed, pitched a wide outshoot for Baker to bite at, but the slugger got by for a ball. The crowd shouted, but the "old master" quickly had two strikes on him by Baker fouling the ball. On the next pitch the hard hitting third baseman was out on strikes. "You didn't do it that time," shouted some one from the stand behind the Giants' bench. McGraw fled to Burns, leaving Murphy and Oidring stranded on the bases.

Burns, first man up for New York in the second inning, struck out on Plank's cross-fire balls. Shafer hit up at third. It looked like a sure victory for the Athletics. All the New York infield surrounded Mathewson and after a short conference the big pitcher again went into the box. Lapp hit weakly to Wiltse and the latter shot the ball to McLean as Strunk rushed to the plate. McLean easily put the ball on the run and he was out. Strunk, not touching the plate as he slid past it, Barry moved up to third on the out. The excitement was great among the crowd. It was expected that Manager Mack would send in a pinch hitter for Plank after reaching the plate was called away. But Mack decided to let the pitcher bat. Plank hit to Wiltse, who shot the ball to McLean, catching Barry coming home. Barry darted back toward third and McLean threw the ball to Herzog, who then returned it to Mathewson on the line and Barry was touched out. Murphy ended the inning by sending an easy grounder to Mathewson, who threw him out. It was great pitching on the part of Mathewson and the twirler received generous applause as he walked to the plate.

Tenth Sees Giants Win.

The memorable tenth saw victory go to the Giants. McLean opened with a single to right center. Grant was ordered to run for McLean and went down to second on Wiltse's sacrifice hit. Plank pitched to Doyle and he ran toward third base. Mathewson won his own game by sending a slashing single to centerfield on which Grant came home. Grant, thinking the play would be close, slid in, but he made the home base easily. Herzog shot a grounder and the latter threw the ball to Barry to force Mathewson. Barry appeared to lose sight of the ball and it went over his head as Mathewson reached second and kept on to third as the ball rolled into centerfield. Mathewson pitched and Plank hit Doyle with a pitched ball and the bases were full. Fletcher caught one of Plank's fast inshoots on the end of the bat and drove it down the third base line. The ball took an unexpected bounce and shot far over Baker's head for a single on which Mathewson and Herzog crossed the plate. Burns struck out for the third time and Shafer fled to Murphy. Mathewson held Philadelphia safe in the latter's half of the inning. Oidring went out, Herzog to Wiltse. Collins struck out and Doyle picked up Baker's grounder and tossed him out at first.

Of the total receipts of today's game—$49,540—the national commission received $4,954. Each club's share was

BAKER, A BATTER.

Baker's prowess is more associated with batting than fielding and he is the most dangerous hitter on either team. In fielding either Shafer or Herzog is as good and can cover more lateral territory. It will be Shafer against the right handed pitchers and Herzog against the southpaws. There's a nonchalant, boyish manner about Shafer that conceals some of his ability. He is skillful on bad grounds, but so quick and easy about it that the plays don't look as difficult as they really are. He can hit and is a streak at getting to first, one of the speediest movers in baseball. On thrown balls he isn't as sure as Herzog and he is fairly good at coming in on bunts. Herzog is all life and springs and commotion—a big series, a player who is at his best in a crucial fight. As for Baker, he fills the bill in his somewhat awkward way, playing with grim steadfastness of purpose. He handles balls hit at him as well as anybody and is proficient on bunts.

$8,935.20 and the players received $26,805.60.

McGraw Is Confident.

New York, Oct. 8.—New York's base-ball heroes, conquerors over the Athletics yesterday, at least, as far as the Philadelphia early this evening and ran into a misty rain and a welcoming delegation of several hundred fans. A mighty cheer greeted Christy Mathewson as he stepped from the train. "Big Six" accepted the ovation smilingly and hurried through the crowd to a taxicab.

Merkle, limping badly, leaned on the arm of Jim Thorpe. Meyers' wrist and split thumb were tightly bandaged. "Herzog is a good fellow," nodding to McGraw, "but we look badly battered," nodding to Merkle and Meyers.

"Who's going to pitch for the Giants tomorrow?" someone asked the New York leader.

"Well, I should say that any one of my remaining pitching staff looks good enough for me in comparison with what our opponents have left to pitch against," McGraw replied cheerfully.

The Giants went to their homes to rest for tomorrow's game. Manager Mack and his Athletics arrived here several hours after the Giants. They were warmly greeted by about 75 Philadelphia followers. Mack, when asked whom he would select to pitch tomorrow, with Bender and Plank not available, replied with a smile: "I still have others."

The team is in good condition, he said. There is no day of rest, which the weather forecasters indicated might be forced upon the players by rain tomorrow. The local weather bureau had little encouragement to offer for tomorrow. The forecast read:

"Cloudy, probably rain Thursday and Friday, moderate east winds."

It was raining at midnight, however, and the fans were hoping that the rain might hold off as it did until the last moments of the game on opening day, despite the threat of a downpour which had prevailed since dawn. The diamond was carefully blanketed immediately after Tuesday's game and as the drainage of the field is almost perfect it is believed it will be in condition for play tomorrow, even though sun be lacking to dry it off.

New Running Record.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 8.—J. N. Camden's Brimhurst, a 2-year-old gelding, established a new world's running record for harness at the Churchill Downs track this afternoon, going the distance in 1:54.5. This reduces by one-fifth of a second the record established by Lady Irma at the Santa Anita Park, California, in December, 1909.

LOCAL FANS ENTHUSIASTIC.

An immense crowd was present at the Auditorium Theatre yesterday to witness the baseball game between New York and Philadelphia and intense interest was manifest throughout the game. Messrs. Friedlander and Strauss would suggest that the "fans" come early tomorrow, as a big rush is expected and choice seats will go quick.

AGGIES ARE TO MEET TRINITY

A. & M. Football Season Opens Friday—Presbyterians Showed Weakness in Their First Game.

College Station, Oct. 8.—The intercollegiate football season at the Texas A. & M. College opens Friday afternoon, when the Aggies take on the squad representing the Trinity University at Waco. Trinity made a poor showing in their first game with Austin College, but dispatches from the campus of the Ellis County Presbyterians declare that wonderful improvement has been made since that the Trinity boys are expected to play a strong game against the Aggies.

The first game will be an experiment for A. & M. however. Moran has cut the squad down to about 45 men and every day two or three are dropped. Difficulty in learning the signals has been a disappointment to some of the cadet fans, but defeat of dropping the first game is entertained.

Whether or not the Aggies will be able to make good against Kansas, Oklahoma, and other strong foes, is what is worrying the boys at College Station.

LOOK FOR EXCITING GAME.

Polytechnic Men Have Made Good Showing This Season.

The game to be played Saturday between Polytechnic and Baylor University is looked forward to as one of the best that will be staged this season on the Baylor gridiron. Baylor will have the advantage of starting her practice games earlier, and of playing on her home field, but "Poly" probably has the strongest team of her history and is expected to make a good showing against the best team of the state. In the game with the University last Friday, Polytechnic held the Varsity team to a tie until the last quarter, when Captain Brown for Texas carried the ball over for the winning touchdown. This evidence of strength means a hard game for Baylor Saturday.

COLLEGE VS. UNIVERSITY.

Odds Are on Varsity for Game to Be Played Tomorrow.

The game tomorrow between the University of Texas and Austin College is expected to be an interesting one. While the odds naturally are on the University team, it is remembered that Austin College has been the victor in the last year's game. This year the Sherman team seems to be in better shape than a year ago, having defeated the 160-pound Trinity eleven last week by the score of 41 to 0.

On the same day A. & M. will play Trinity, which ought to be a question only of how large a score the Farmers are able to run up.

Pittsburg 4, Cleveland 3.

Pittsburg, Oct. 8.—The Pittsburg Nationals today defeated the Cleveland Americans 4 to 3 in the third game of the season series. The game was won with one Pittsburg player retired in the last half of the twelfth inning on a two-base hit by Fletcher Hendrix, Olsen's fumble and McCarthy's single. Olsen's sacrifice bunt in the fifth inning, which was followed by a double by Olsen and a single by McCarthy out of the box, and a hit by McKnight in the sixth, finished the pitching for Pittsburg. The official attendance as given out by the National Commission was 3,500. The receipts were $4,444.12, each club $1,111.04 and the National Commission $3,222.04.

Chicago, Oct. 8.—The Chicago Americans hit their way out to a victory over the Nationals in the first game of the local championship series today. It was a hard fought contest, both pitching stars, Cheney and Russell, doing well. Cheney, who was the first in the eighth, Scott's sacrifice bunt was the first in the eighth, Cheney, who gave two passes and allowed a triple in that session. The Nationals made an uphill fight, but despite home runs by Good and Saier they could not win.

In the eighth Saier slammed the first ball against the score board for a home-run. Good was out on a close throw. Weaver's fumble and Archer's double put men on second and third with one out. Even so, the Cubs to the first inning's place. Callahan then withdrew Russell and substituted Scott. In place of Cheney, Cheney then put in Williams and Scott struck him out. Leach was an easy out.

COAST-TO-COAST A WINNER.

East and West Want the Long Road, Good Roads Enthusiast Says.

The speedy construction of the projected all-Southern coast-to-coast highway is practically assured," said M. S. Mack, a good roads enthusiast, who is registered at the Metropole, last night. "I have just covered the territory between this city and San Francisco and I found the cities and counties of the intervening southern country even more cordial toward the enterprise than I noted in the eastern country on my last trip to the Atlantic seaboard."

Mr. Mack is a son of the late Judge F. J. Mack of Wilmington, N. C., one of the most famous criminal lawyers of the last decade in the east. He is the traveling representative of an automobile manufacturing concern and travels out of New York City. Probably no commercial traveler on the road has a wider field assigned to him, the territory traversed by Mack being from Montreal to Mexico and from New York to San Francisco.

ATHLETICS HELPLESS

Athletics took the field and Herzog led off for New York. After having two balls and a strike, Herzog sent a high fly to Collins and was out amid cheers of the crowd. Captain Doyle drove a fly to Strunk in centerfield and Fletcher ended the inning by failing a victim to strikes.

The home rooters cheered Eddie Murphy as he faced the old reliable Mathewson. His first pitch, unusual for him in a world's series game, was a ball, but the second was a strike and then Murphy sent a slow grounder to Doyle. The New York captain, in his anxiety to make a quick throw to head off the first runner, let the ball go between his legs and Murphy was safe. Cotton.

New York, Oct. 8.—The cotton market was nervous and irregular today, with cotton traders evidently disposed to take a bearish view of southwestern weather conditions and the spot situation, but aggressive selling was restricted by apprehensions of storm damage in the eastern belt and the appearance of early buying on declines. Covering by trade buyers helped an afternoon rally and the market closed steady, not 2 points lower to 4 points higher. There seemed to be a good many overnight selling orders around the ring at the start and first prices were 1 to 3 points lower. Offerings were encouraged by easier Liverpool cables and better weather in the southwest than expected, but reports of a storm off the South Atlantic coast caused considerable nervousness and prices soon rallied to about the closing figures of last night on covering. This bulge ran the market into increased offerings, however, and it soon weakened under active foreign, southern and local selling. Some stop orders were anchored on the decline, which carried prices off to 13.03 for January or about 80 points below the high record of last week. This high of 14 per bale attracted a good deal of realizing by recent sellers as well as some renewals of bull support and the market later ruled steadier, reports that the South Atlantic storm had reached the coast and might cause damaging rains in the interior. Active months worked from 14 to 15 points above the closing figures of last night during the afternoon but selling continued active enough to cause further irregularity in the late trading, with the close 3 or 4 points off from the best.

An Arkansas spot man was quoted as estimating the crop at 12,500,000 bales, including lint, but these figures seemed to attract comparatively little attention and there was much talk around the ring indicating somewhat increased views of the yield as well as expectation of spot offerings.

New Orleans, Oct. 8.—While cotton was under heavy selling pressure in the first half of the session today, the tone in the afternoon became steady and there was a full recovery of the decline and even a small net advance. Save for the fact that spots were somewhat higher than they did, in the morning it was reported that the bulls could have been able to force prices somewhat higher than they did. In the morning it was reported that the bulls could have been able to force prices somewhat higher than they did. In the morning it was reported that the bulls could have been able to force prices somewhat higher than they did.

On the opening the tone was steady and prices were 4 to 6 points down on poor cables and a fairly good weather map. Reports from the belt were more reassuring and there was a tendency to increase crop estimates. The detailed weather reports denoted very little rain in the belt over night. Immediately after the call there was a recovery of the initial decline and prices went 10 to 12 points over yesterday's close. This rise was quickly lost and replaced by a decline which was gradually widened to 11 to 12 points. The market commenced to regain ground again toward noon and in the afternoon displayed moderate strength. The windstorm off the South Atlantic coast helped the market to some extent. At the highest in the afternoon the market was 2 to 3 points over yesterday's close. Close steady 10 up to 4 down compared with yesterday's close.
